

2 More Vancouver Banks Held Up

Island Rainmakers Send Moisture to Mainland

"WISH I HAD SWALLOWED MY WORDS" DEPT.

WINDSOR, Ont., (CP)—Politicians sometimes say things they don't mean, but an utterance on Monday night by one of Windsor's mayoralty candidates tops them all. He said:

"In the end, the people of Windsor shall speak. And I will not listen to them."

5 Fishboats, 60 Crewmen Missing in U.K.

Planes, Ships In Wide Search

LONDON (UP)—French planes and ships searched calmer seas today for five Breton fishing boats, overdue with 60 men aboard.

The battering storms which have claimed 51 lives at sea and in Britain were abating, and it was hoped the French fishermen had found safe shelter.

Fears had been felt for their safety when they were unreported and had made no radio contact since sailing into the gale last Friday.

Seamen believed they had found shelter in some small port along the Irish, British or French coast.

The search by plane and ship was described as "precautionary."

The Royal Navy searched raging seas today for 20 missing men from the freighter Treillian, but the Admiralty said there was little hope they would be found. Four bodies were recovered and 16 men were rescued.

Power Board Appointment Imminent?

By TOM GOULD
The "three-man B.C. Power Commission is scheduled to arrive back in Victoria Friday after a hush-hush trip to the east."

Repeated queries to the commission offices have been answered with a statement that the "commissioners are out of town, but we don't know where."

One commission spokesman confirmed reports the commissioners have been to Toronto, and there are reports they are seeking a new general manager to handle the B.C.P.C.'s administration.

Appointment of a general manager was recommended by Mr. Justice J. V. Cline in his Royal Commission report on the Whatshan disaster.

FOR YEAR TO DATE

Sunshine Average Off 235 Hours

Sunshine in Victoria for the 11-month period to November 30 was down 235.7 hours from the yearly average for this time, weatherman Bill Mackie reported today.

There were 1,899.2 hours of sunshine, compared to the normal 2,134.9.

During this period rainfall totaled 25.86 inches, 3.79 inches above normal.

In November mean temperature was 48.8 degrees, 3.6 above average. It rained on 17 days

U.S. Firm Retained to Fill Powell River Drainage Basin

The world's most successful rainmaking firm has installed a network of generators on Vancouver Island aimed at increasing rainfall on the moisture-soaked Lower Mainland to boost hydro power storage.

Powell River Co. has contracted the firm's services for a one-year period starting October 1, 1954, for a six-month period between October 1953 and April 1954. Powell River wants more rainfall to increase water storage for its hydro-electric plants.

The rainmaking firm, Water Resources Development Corp., of Denver, Colorado, and Spokane, Wash., is headed by Dr. Irving Krick, who has built his multi-million dollar company on his reputation as "the weather wizard of the world."

Six rain machines have been installed on Vancouver Island—at Duncan, Ladysmith, Campbell River, Comox, Wellington, and Lantzville. Two others are located at Powell River and Bowen Island.

The intricate machines bombard the atmosphere with countless millions of particles of silver iodide, when in operation.

The disclosure of the rainmaking activities came at a time when Vancouver city chalked up a new record for rainfall for the month of November.

Powell River Co. officials today confirmed the existence of the machines. Company spokesmen said recent mill expansion is taxing the hydro-electric potential of the firm's power generators at Lois River, and on the Powell River.

The firm hired the professional rainmakers in efforts to increase rainfall, to build up water storage reservoirs in Powell Lake and Gordon Pasha Lake.

BCE CONTRACT

The B.C. Electric Company also revealed it has entered the rainmaking business. The BCE hired the same firm on an experimental basis two years ago, but dropped its contract after the Bridge River power station went into operation.

One of Dr. Krick's associates, meteorologist Lynn Willoughby of Spokane, told the Times the rain machines are located and operated to direct additional rainfall in the Powell River drainage area.

The "target" area is a 75 mile by 50 mile block centering on Powell River. However, Mr. Willoughby said results of the machines carry as much as 150 miles.

Mr. Willoughby said wind speeds and direction, temperatures, moisture content of the air, and other factors are compiled in the firm's U.S. offices.

When all factors are known, and conditions suitable, the rain machines are turned on. "If the rainfall will affect any area other than the target area we won't operate," he said.

Powell River officials said the initial six-month test was "inconclusive," but that Dr. Krick sold them on a further one-year test to prove he could obtain results.

The rain machines pour a stream of minute silver iodide particles at the rate of "a million billion per minute" into the air over Vancouver Island.

The particles attract moisture in the air, and form the nucleus of a rain drop. When the drops become large enough, they discharge and fall as rain.

Mr. Willoughby said there is "no doubt" the silver iodide method can get results.

He said the process does not take immediate effect, but the 20-mile flight across the Georgia Strait allows time for the droplets to form.

The generators "burn" coke with the silver iodide, and the warm updraft created by the fire carries the particles into the upper air currents.

The generators are contained in a metal box, 30 by 14 by 30 inches. Inside, a hopper filled with silver iodide impregnated coke drops the mixture into a burner.

An electric blower fans the particles into the air. The unit at Wellington, half a mile past Wellington station at Long Lake Auto Court, is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Fournace.

It sits right at their back door. Mrs. Fournace receives calls from Spokane "at all hours of the day or night." After receiving a call, Mrs. Fournace lights the contraption with an oil-soaked piece of asbestos, and trips the switch to start the burner.

RAINFALL DATA

The department of transport has no connection with the rainmaking activities, but meteorologists have been called upon to contribute rainfall data from scattered points throughout the lower mainland.

The information is collected from stations as far north as Bella Coola, east to Estevan Point, and south to Haney and Chilliwack.

Dr. Krick's firm has been under investigation by D.O.T. inspectors in Saskatoon, where Water Resources Development Corp. signed up hundreds of wheat farmers in mid-summer for a rainmaking contract.

The federal department has not issued a report on its findings, which are less rain fell whether more or less rain fell within the target areas compared with precipitation outside them.

Vancouver weather officials said they don't know whether the machines are effective. Vancouver has experienced flooding conditions as a result of rain.

Churchill Apologizes to Commons For Words on Captured Nazi Arms

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill expressed to the House of Commons today his "regrets" for having stated last week that he considered rearming captured German troops in 1945.

He had said he had considered such action might be necessary to stop the Russians, if the Soviets advanced too far into western Europe.

Churchill explained today that he was under the impression when he made the disclosure to a small gathering at Woodford, that he already had published that fact in his account of the Second World War.

"When I spoke at Woodford," he said, "I was under the rooted impression that not only had I sent this telegram to Field Marshal Montgomery, but that I had published it a year ago in the sixth volume of my account of the Second World War."

"In fact, the telegram was not published in the book," the prime minister said.

He said he regretted not having followed the rule to "always check your quotations."

"I express my regrets to the House for what I said last week," Churchill said with rare humility.

The row in Commons over the Churchill statement returned the prime minister to the rough and tumble of political life after Tuesday's emotional celebration in which friend and foe alike paid tribute to his greatness.

Former Socialist Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell raised the question of the "indoctored" statement in the public mind at Churchill's disclosure.

He said if Conservatives backing Churchill approved the use of "indoctrinated and un-screened Nazis in order to fight their former ally" then something was "wrong with their judgment or intelligence."

WINNIE'S PORTRAIT 'STUDY IN LUMBAGO?'

LONDON (Reuters)—Artist Graham Sutherland's conception of Prime Minister Churchill on canvas has raised a storm of controversy among the press and public, with comments ranging from "disgusting" and "throw the artist in the river" to "wonderful."

Conservative member Robert Cary said "it's all right if you like a study in lumbago." (See also page 5.)

SELL HOMOGENIZED ONLY

Abolish Standard Milk Board Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Elimination of standard milk and sale of homogenized only, abolition of pint sizes and reduction of the varieties of cream available were among economies suggested to the Royal Commission probing B.C.'s milk industry.

George Fawcett, Vancouver manager of Palm Dairies Ltd., said Tuesday these measures would reduce distributing costs and keep the retail price of milk stable for consumers.

He admitted that another milk price increase above the present 22 cents a quart would cut consumer demand. Consumers did not realize what "a bargain in food value" they were getting, he said.

During cross-examination, Mr. Fawcett argued that distributors had in many cases absorbed rising costs without passing them on to consumers.

Neither the milk producer nor the unionized employee had to suffer on account of increased costs, he said.

Another recommendation for economy in distribution was the five-day delivery, he said.

There was no hope of achieving these distribution economies unless the distributors could agree among themselves to initiate these suggestions, he said.

If any dairy inaugurated any economy by itself, say the elimination of pint sizes, it would lose customers to competitors. He said he would favor only as a last resort an overall authority which would have powers to rule that certain economies must be put into effect.

$50,000 Loot Grabbed in Morning Raids

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Two bank hold-ups netted thugs $50,000 here today when four heavily armed men looted the West Point Grey branch of the Bank of Montreal and two hours later a lone man robbed the downtown branch of the same bank.

The first raid occurred about 9 a.m. on the West Point Grey branch and the thugs escaped with $48,000 after battering down the door of the bank.

Two hours later, a lone man shoved a note through a wicket to a teller in the Pender and Granville Street main branch of the bank and got away with $2,000.

Police picked up four suspects in connection with the West Point Grey robbery, and the men were taken to headquarters for questioning.

In that raid three thugs, armed with two shotguns and two Luger pistols, barged into the bank before the branch opened for business and forced the staff to lie on the floor.

2 Escape Cars Believed Used

The thugs fled in a green Buick sedan driven by a fourth man. The car, stolen earlier, was found abandoned in the university area. It carried two different license plates. A Cadillac also stolen earlier was recovered, and it was believed the bandits may have used the vehicle as a second getaway car.

Descriptions were obtained of three of the men. One was said to be a Negro about six foot two, wearing a woman's green coat with a hood. A second man was described as of average height with a grey hat, and the third about five foot six with a black hat.

The alarm on the hold-up was turned in by print shop owner Earl Vye, who was in his office across the street and saw the thugs enter the bank. A second alarm was given police by drug store clerk Audrey Sherlock who saw the thugs fleeing to their getaway car.

Vye said he saw the hold-up take place and phoned police while the bandits were still in the bank.

"They were real pros," Vye said. "I saw a short guy with a mask step out of the car and yell 'This is a hold-up.' I ran back inside my shop and phoned the police."

The men were masked with stockings. They took two cash boxes each containing $24,000 after telling a clerk to "hand over the money or you won't see Christmas."

Biggest Hold-Up in Recent Years

The robbery was the biggest hold-up in recent Vancouver history.

Police fingerprint experts converged on the scene in a matter of minutes and roadblocks were thrown up throughout the West Point Grey district.

In the other four greater Vancouver bank robberies of the past month loot totaling about $13,000 was obtained. Today's hold-up was the first to occur before the opening of a bank.

Relieving manager Jack R. Purser and Mrs. Ida Randle, liability clerk, were discussing bank business when they heard a crash as the gunmen forced in the door.

"They all seemed to burst in all at once," Purser said. "Then a small man who was well-spoken said 'Lie down.' A second man said 'Everyone has to make a living.'"

Plucky Woman Fights Off Thug

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A plucky South Vancouver housewife was the latest citizen to join the growing fight against the city's gangsterism.

Mrs. Peggy Krulitski battled a masked hoodlum and gave him a bloody nose after he forced his way into her home Tuesday night and grabbed $10 from her purse.

Mrs. Krulitski told police the six-foot prowler came to her back door demanding money. She said the man grabbed her and pushed her inside the house.

Stewart Bates Heads Central Mortgage

OTTAWA (CP)—Stewart Bates, deputy fisheries minister, today was appointed president of the government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

The 47-year-old deputy succeeds D. B. Mansur to the $22,500-a-year post. Mr. Mansur recently resigned to become president of a Toronto investment corporation.

Also being probed is the death of Lim Kim Bow, 65, whose body was found on the kitchen floor of his Columbia Street home Tuesday.

Cause of the death of the elderly Chinese was not immediately revealed.

3 Mainland Women Rescued From Escaping Gas Fumes

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Two elderly Vancouver women and a third in New Westminster were recovering today after being overcome by domestic gas in their homes Tuesday night.

Mrs. Julia Colton, aged 91, and Louise Colton, sisters, were stricken in their Vancouver apartment after a gas jet was turned on accidentally. Another tenant smelled gas and the women were taken to the general hospital.

In New Westminster, Mrs. Helen McGregor, 73, was found unconscious from gas seeping from a stove. An inhalator crew revived her after 20 minutes, and she was taken to the Royal Columbian Hospital.

The incidents occurred as B.C. Electric Co. officials expressed concern over whether emergency measures taken by provincial and civic authorities would prevent further disasters.

The domestic gas death toll stands at 56 for Vancouver this year.

Censure Vote On McCarthy Due Today

Junior Senator Predicts 'Completely One-Sided Verdict'

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—A vote to censure Senator Joseph McCarthy seemed in the cards as the Senate approached the hour of decision today.

JUST for the RECORD

ACCOMMODATING: In Janesville, Wis., the Parker Pen Co. has lowered all its bulletin boards three inches to accommodate its 229 employees who wear bifocal glasses.

ACCEPTED: In Jackson, Miss., Leo Love, a linotype operator for the Jackson Daily News, was asked by court officials yesterday whether his newspaper affiliation would have any effect on his decision as a juror in a murder trial. "When you work around a newspaper for a while," Love replied, "you get to where you don't pay any attention to what they write."

He was accepted as a juror.

JUSTICE: In Nashville, Tenn., Justice of the Peace Clay E. Smith yesterday fined three men $25 and court costs for illegally hunting deer with buckshot.

Smith was one of the defendants.

MENU: In Chicago the routine meal at the detective bureau lockup formerly was a slab of bologna between two slices of bread. Now the prisoners have a choice. They are offered menus listing "open-faced bologna sandwich," "fried bologna sandwich," "bologna with mustard," and "plate of sliced bologna."

ENTHUSIASM: In Los Angeles George F. Gerald, a spectator at a divorce trial, got too enthusiastic over the judge's decision and leaped to his feet shouting "good for you, judge." The judge promptly fined Gerald $10 for contempt of court.

OLD HOME WEEK: At least one mallard duck appears to have the instincts of a homing pigeon.

Ducks Unlimited reported that the mallard, captured and banded originally at Louisiana Lakes, Alta., in 1949, was recaptured at the identical spot in 1952 and again recaptured on the same waters in 1954.

$6.6 Million Gain in City Bank Totals

A $6,599,170 increase in Greater Victoria bank clearing in November is reported today by Victoria Clearing House. Cheques cleared by local banks totaled $42,099,134—18.6 per cent greater than the $35,499,964 total for November, 1953.

Conservation Methods Theme Of New Film Previewed Here

"Proud Land," a new film made for the Canadian Institute of Agriculture by the Imperial Oil Company, had its first B.C. showing in the National Film Board offices here today.

The 20-minute film, made at an estimated cost of $50,000, is designed for use by organizations across Canada to impress the need for the conservation of natural resources. It is a dramatic documentary filmed for people of all ages, but with special emphasis placed on teaching conservation to young people.

Today's viewing was seen by government, industrial, agricultural and other officials interested in conservation methods. The film, which is in full color, will be in Victoria for the next week before moving to Vancouver and then other parts

Shipyard Wage Board Approved By Minister

McFarlane's Status Cleared by Wicks; Next Sitting Likely to Be Next Week

Acting on an arbitration board as a company appointee does not make an individual ineligible to serve within six months on a labor conciliation board, labor minister Lyle Wicks has ruled.

Joint Shipyard Council, which is involved with four Vancouver and Victoria shipbuilders over a wage dispute, questioned Vancouver corporation counsel M. M. McFarlane's eligibility to serve on the three-man board which met last Thursday in Vancouver.

Union men charged that McFarlane had been a company agent as recently as last May, less than the Labor Act's stipulated six-month interval, and therefore could not sit on a conciliation board.

NOT PAID AGENT

The attorney-general advised the labor minister that serving on an arbitration board does not make an individual a paid agent of a company.

Next sitting of the board will likely be next week. Chairman is A. W. R. Carrothers, faculty of law at UBC, and union representative is Orville Braaten, pulp and sulphite union official. Machinery, shipwrights and electricians together with Vancouver local boiler-makers' union are demanding a 10 per cent wage boost, a 20 per cent differential to charge hands over journeymen, five per cent of gross earnings for annual holiday pay and other changes.

Companies involved are Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrow's Ltd., in Victoria, and Vancouver's Burrard and Pacific Drydocks.

INCINERATOR COSTS $700,000 —BUT IT STILL SMELLS

REGINA (CP)—Civic dignitaries dressed in their best gathered behind Mayor Leslie Hammond Tuesday as he kindled the fire to open officially a $700,000 incinerator. "A feature of this incinerator is that it gives off no odor," the mayor started to say as he thrust a torch into the giant furnace to ignite refuse prepared for the ceremony. At that moment, something impeded the chimney draft and a blow-back in the furnace chamber sent soot flying about the guests. The soot was accompanied by a strong odor.

Ss. Sunrip... largest Canadian-built freighter.

CANADIAN BUILT FOR KITIMAT ORE RUN

Unique Giant Joins Alcan Fleet

The largest ocean-going freighter ever built in Canada is on her way from Jamaica to the B.C. coast with a cargo of aluminum oxide for the Alcan smelter at Kitimat.

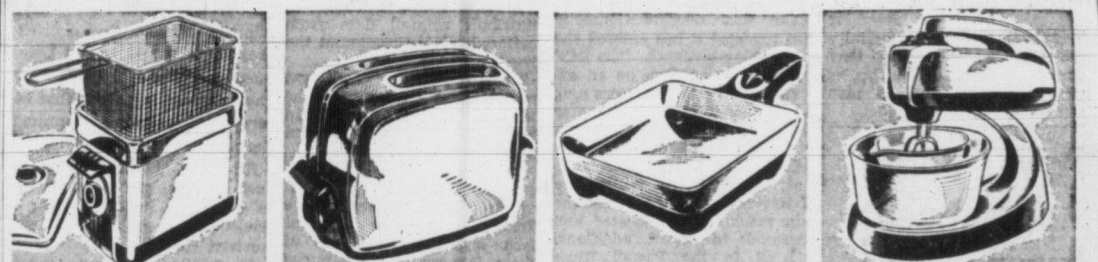

She is 12,700-ton Ss. Sunrip, built by Davie Shipbuilding, Lauzon, Quebec, for Sun Steamships Ltd., and chartered on a long-term basis to Saguenay Terminals. Saguenay is a subsidiary of Alcan.

Sunrip is the first ship especially constructed to transport aluminum oxide. She is also the first major merchant ship to be built with an all-welded aluminum superstructure.

In some respects, construction of Sunrip—primarily a bulk carrier—is similar to that of a grain ship. To overcome instability caused by cargo shifting, she is equipped with a system of centrelines bulkheads, similar to those found on grain ships. A unique feature is that key sections of the feeders can be folded away from the square of each hatch, thereby enabling her to convert to a general cargo carrier in a short time.

The ship has 10 large hatches to provide maximum open-deck space for bulk cargo handling, two hatches to each of five holds. Sunrip's ability to convert from bulk to general cargo will make her a "two-way" ship on the Jamaica-B.C.-Jamaica run. Southbound, she will carry such commodities as aluminum ingot, flour, grain, lumber, fish and newsprint to U.S. west coast and Gulf coast ports, and to Caribbean ports.

Sunrip is a two-deck vessel of the closed shelter deck type with raised forecastle, raked stem and cruiser stern. She is 475-feet long, and has a service speed of 13.5 knots.

Susan Hayes Admits Affairs With Dr. Sam

Murder-Trial Jury Hears Sheppard's Former Nurse Testify He Gave Her Ring and Watch

By H. D. QUINN

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Susan Hayes, in severe black and looking demure on the witness stand, testified today that she had been sexually intimate with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard from 1952 until three months before his wife was bludgeoned to death last July 4.

Miss Hayes also testified that Dr. Sheppard had given her a ring in January this year, a watch in March and had expressed his love for her on several other occasions.

She said he once told her "he loved his wife very much—but not so much as a wife." He was thinking of getting a divorce Miss Hayes said.

The 24-year-old former nurse in Dr. Sheppard's osteopathic hospital was the climax witness for the state's case against the handsome Dr. Sam.

He is accused of bludgeoning his attractive wife, Marilyn, 31, to death last July 4, after quarreling with her about his extramarital affairs. The state contends Miss Hayes is one of the

Montreal Proposes All-Night Movies

MONTREAL (BUP)—Councilor Alfred Gagliardi said today he would fight any city hall move to allow theatres to remain open all night for adult audiences.

He said teen-agers who didn't want to go home and undesirable underworld characters would make all-night movies their headquarters.

Executive chairman Pierre Desmarais thinks, however, that if movie houses keep minors out, all-night shows would help solve the big-city entertainment problems of workers who can't go to shows at any other time.

FORD WAGE TALKS FAIL; UNION LEADERS BLAMED

TORONTO (BUP)—Union insistence on one province-wide agreement to settle strikes at Ford of Canada plants was blamed today for a breakdown in attempts to negotiate peace between the company and 6,000 Windsor workers.

The Rev. M. C. Davies, speaker of the Ontario Legislature and clergyman-chairman of the meetings, said the collapse came at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and that no further talks were scheduled.

Davies said two of the four union negotiators had insisted that any hard-rock bargaining on the Windsor strike must include consideration of the issues at stake in Oakville and Etobicoke.

Imprisoned Americans New Problem for UN

China Expected to Parry Questions With Demand for Seat on World Body

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Communist China may demand representation in the United Nations if the United States brings up the question of 13 Americans imprisoned by the Peiping regime, it was reported today.

Red China is not a member of the UN but in the past non-members have been allowed to send representatives to the world body either as observers or to argue their side of some issue under debate.

The UN takes up the subject of the reunification of Korea today and there was every indication the United States hoped to bring up the plight of the 13 Americans sentenced to jail on trumped-up spy charges.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., leaves for Washington later today and it was reported he would discuss the question fully with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R, N.J.), chairman of the Far Eastern subcommittee of the Senate foreign relations committee, also was in Washington. Smith, a member of the U.S. delegation here, had been scheduled to argue the unification case in the main political committee.

His place was taken by James J. Wadsworth, deputy chief of the permanent U.S. delegation.

The United States has a pledge of firm support from Britain in the case of the 13 Americans and has discussed the subject with other friendly powers.

Soviet NATO Just a Bluff?

Western Authorities See Threat As More Communist Propaganda

BERLIN (AP)—Allied quarters in Berlin said today the Moscow conference threat to beef up a Communist East German army is probably pure bluff.

Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl declared at the satellite security gathering in the Soviet capital Tuesday that his government will feel obliged to build an army if the West ratifies the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

Western circles in Berlin viewed the Moscow declaration as propaganda designed to throw a chill into those segments of Western parliaments which still have some doubts about the wisdom of giving West Germany a half-million-man military force.

Allied military quarters which keep informed on the East German Communist "police" force contend:

1. The present East German army of 130,000 men represents almost the limit of military manpower the Soviet zone can afford at the moment.
2. Voluntary recruiting has been a failure and even repressive measures amounting almost to a draft of Communist youth have managed only to balance out desertions to the West. These desertions now total 12,000—more than a full division—since 1951.
3. Imposition of a draft for expanding the army would be a highly dangerous move for the East zone Reds, making the army even more unpopular than it is now.

4. The ambitious economic program in the Soviet zone, soaking up all available manpower and still thirsting for more, would be dealt a body blow by siphoning off able-bodied men for military training.

HERO OF STALINGRAD TO COMMAND ALLIANCE?

The Other Side of the Story

A GREAT deal of tongue-clucking is going on these days about the conduct of our youngsters. So many people are sounding off publicly about "juvenile delinquency" that the impression seems to be getting around that we're breeding a generation of monsters.

There is another side to this story which we seldom hear about. The youngsters who are progressing in a normal, steady fashion behave so well that they never make the headlines. The theory, if you can call it that, seems to be that "Good news is no news."

Not generally known, for instance, is the fact that the Boy Scout movement in our province is undergoing one of the greatest resurgences in its history. The popular Tom Parsons of this city did a grand job in developing this work. On his retirement, the post of commissioner for British Columbia and the Yukon fell to Col. C. T. Batten, an energetic chap who has thrown himself heart and soul into the business they call Scouting.

Under his spirited guidance, the Boy Scout enrollment in British Columbia stands at an all-time high of 22,000. Next year the budget for the provincial council will be $70,000, the great bulk of which is contributed by private citizens who regard the Baden-Powell dream as an inspired idea.

Next year, too, Scouting will get a tremendous impetus in this country when, for the first time, Canada will play host to the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts. Preparations are already under way for the show at Niagara-on-the-Lake which will call together Scouts from every corner of the globe. Many a Canadian youngster is lying awake on his pillow these frosty evenings, wondering whether he'll be chosen to represent his local troop, for accommodation must of necessity be limited.

Every day this work is going on, quietly, in obscure halls and basements throughout Greater-Victoria. In many instances, the job of "Akeia" (or instructor) is being administered by young women, and they are making a notable success of the effort.

Last Friday night, for instance, there was a Fall Fair held in a Fairfield district hall for some Cub packs. A year ago, parents got word that the hall had been condemned. But a committee, headed by a local garage-man, got together to save the hall for their boys. They raised $1,600 and on Friday night the new beams and wiring were in place and the kids were having a whopping time.

On the same day, word came from Ceece Annett of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club that they would handle the drive for a new $15,000 Scout Hall in that municipality. With little fanfare, the Kiwanians will conduct a door-to-door canvass in the district. In due course they will erect a small hall at Firemen's Park, turn it over to the municipality, but continue to supervise and maintain the building.

With this evidence as background, it was good to hear retiring Commissioner Dalziel of the Salvation Army say on Sunday that he thought today's youngsters were "better than ever." The Commissioner, speaking from practical experience, said that he had found our boys and girls brighter, more knowledgeable, better equipped to meet the complex problems of our times.

It seems to me that the Commissioner uttered a great truth when he said that the success or failure of our youngsters depends largely on the principles they are taught at home. It's a bromide, of course, but like most bromides, it's true. As any social worker will tell you, the vast majority of our juvenile troubles today can be traced to "parental delinquency."

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Anti-Vivisectionist Improve

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

I never thought I'd be patting anti-vivisectionists approvingly on the back, but today I must do it, because some of them have taken a great step forward. I hear that recently one of their big societies had the good sense to stop denying that animal experimentation ever does any good or ever did any good. I hear, also, that they now admit that much of animal experimentation does not involve any cutting and does not cause any pain. I take my hat off to the people who made these admissions because I know how much courage it took. I fear that some of their old friends will now make it hot for them.

Alvarez

Years ago, when as an associate professor of research medicine I used to have to spend much of my time at legislative hearings fighting anti-vivisectionists who were trying to pass laws designed to close the fine research laboratories of my university. I never heard one of them admit that there was the slightest good in medicine, or that anything could ever be learned or ever had been learned from experimentation on animals. They would not admit that any form of vaccination or protection from disease was of any value. Some maintained that no animal should ever be used against its will.

MANY ENEMIES MADE

Of course, the taking of such an extreme position alienated many thoughtful animal lovers, and it turned against the anti-vivisectionists the farmers and the ranchers, whose financial lives depended on getting better veterinary protection for their cattle, hogs, sheep, chickens and turkeys. They could not afford to permit the stoppage of the researches they so needed to combat those many awful epidemic diseases of animals that, in a few days, can almost wipe out an animal raiser.

I need hardly tell educated men and women of my age that those epidemic diseases, such as typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever, which, when we were children, were so common and so fatal, and which struck such terror into the hearts of our fathers and mothers, and killed so many of our little brothers and sisters, are now about gone. All of them wiped out by laboratory researches which gave us good vaccines and protective serums and toxoids. These are facts about which there cannot be any argument.

It is sad that scientists still have to keep pointing out to the public that perhaps nine-tenths of all the work in our great research laboratories is done, not on dogs, but on small animals such as mice, white rats, guinea pigs, and rabbits. The anti-vivisectionists talk of dogs, but a dog costs money, and medical schools are poor, and hence dogs are used only when the nature of the experiment demands this.

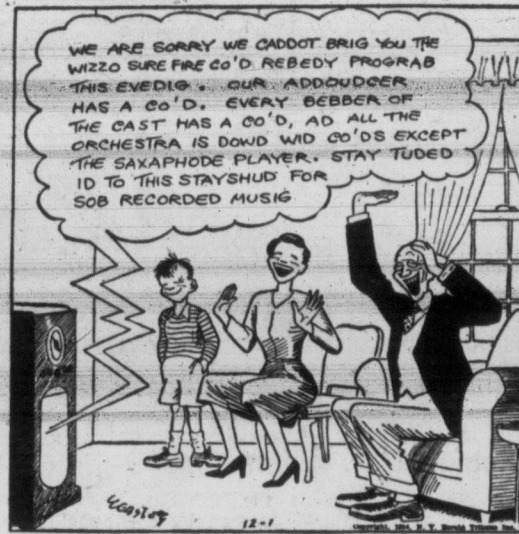

The anti-vivisectionists have always talked about operations, but actually today, most of the work in our great laboratories consists of inoculations and test of vaccines and sera and drugs. There are only a few operations, and many of these now are performed on rats.

ANESTHESIA USED NOW

I hope to live to see the day when the anti-vivisectionists will be so honest and fair as to admit that in those few animal experiments in which an operation is needed, it is now performed under anesthesia. Perhaps, like all sensible people, the anti-vivisectionists will realize that no one except an insane sadist would ever want to operate on a struggling, howling animal when, with a few whiffs of ether, he could have him sound asleep and insensible and quiet.

Perhaps, some day, also, the anti-vivisectionists will stop describing each month in their "bulletins" scenes of inconceivable brutality, and will, instead, admit that today in research laboratories most of the work is being done by fine young women, as gentle, kindly and humane as any one can find anywhere. I cannot imagine any sensible person really believing that these fine women, often with a master's degree, are torturing animals for the fun of it. Surely, few persons could really believe such an accusation.

Aim of South Africa—A Republic—Strijdom

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters) — Johannes Strijdom, in his first public appearance as prime minister, said Tuesday night the ultimate object of his Nationalist party is to make the union a republic.

Strijdom, chosen by Nationalist party leaders as prime minister, Tuesday to succeed retiring 80-year-old Daniel Malan, spoke at a party function.

South Africa now has Dominion status within the British Commonwealth.

Strijdom, a 61-year-old former ostrich farmer and Nationalist party "strong man," was chosen as new prime minister when Malan sent his resignation to the governor-general. He is an advocate of race segregation.

HAVENGA RETIRES

N. C. Havenga, moderate rival to Strijdom, announced after his defeat Tuesday that he would quit politics and retire to his farm.

Strijdom said the problems of South Africa are increasing and he realizes that the responsibility which rests on his shoulders is great.

Among these problems the native question is one of the most important, he said.

The Nationalist party always pursued a policy of justice and fairness toward all sections of the population—English-speaking, Afrikaans-speaking, Africans and other non-whites, he said.

He gave an assurance that this policy would continue to be applied and would continue when South Africa becomes a republic.

Earlier Tuesday Governor-General Ernest Jansen officially announced the resignation of Malan after six years of office and said he had summoned Strijdom to form a government.

Havenga, finance minister, who was Malan's personal preference for premier, told reporters: "I am finished—my task is finished."

Only seven minutes were spent on Strijdom's election at the Nationalist caucus meeting after Havenga's withdrawal. The rest of the meeting was devoted to tributes to both candidates.

Observers consider South Africa's political future under Strijdom may be more resolute than under Malan.

'Awful-Disgusting-Modern Art' Reaction to Churchill Portrait

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UP)—A controversy arose in Britain today over Prime Minister Winston Churchill's 80th birthday portrait, with descriptions ranging from "beautiful" to "a study in lumbago."

Churchill himself was quoted as quipping that "it makes me look half-witted, which I ain't."

The portrait, painted by Graham Sutherland, was unveiled in Westminster Hall Tuesday during ceremonies honoring Churchill.

It shows Churchill wrinkled and sitting heavily in a chair with his chin thrust forward. He is a frowning Churchill, with none of the cherubic features of the "Old Man's" countenance in evidence.

Churchill drew a roar of laughter from some 2,600 persons who had gone to Westminster Hall to honor him.

"The portrait is a remarkable example of modern art," Churchill said, but added "it certainly combines force and candor."

The Daily Express said that Churchill remarked, on first seeing the finished portrait last week, that "it makes me look half-witted, which I ain't."

Conservative member of Parliament Walter Elliot called it "awful."

But Aneurin Bevan, left-wing Laborite, said he liked it very much.

"It's a beautiful work, wonderful," Bevan said.

"It's disgusting," said Lord

Hailsham. "It's ill-mannered. Throw the artist into the river."

Lord Hailsham made his remarks within earshot of artist Sutherland's wife.

Left-wing Laborite E. L. Malleson said it is "a perfect portrait of the man we see from opposition benches," while Conservative M. P. Robert Cary said "it's all right if you like a study in lumbago."

London's art critics also were divided in their opinions of Sutherland's work. "The master surrealist failed in his portrayal of the master realist," T. W. Earp of The Daily Telegraph said.

"It is a very fine essay in the extremely difficult art of giving a satisfactory likeness of a hero of world stature," Pierre Jean-nat of The Daily Mail said.

Author Somerset Maugham, whose portrait also has been painted by Sutherland, thought time was on the artist's side.

Semenick Tells Story of 'Ride'

Detective Says He Knows Names of Would-Be Killers

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A Vancouver detective giving evidence at the trial today of William Semenick, charged with obstructing justice in a gangland attempt on his life, said he knew the persons who attempted to murder the accused.

Det. Bill Morphet, who assisted in the investigation of the attempted murder Nov. 3 of Semenick, later qualified his statement and said "I think I know the names of the persons who shot Semenick."

Semenick, an ex-convict, was wounded in the thigh when he was shot near Lumberman's Arch in Stanley Park in a gangland battle believed connected with Vancouver's narcotics racket.

Semenick's counsel, Thomas Hurley, submitted there was no case against Semenick and asked for dismissal of the charge.

"THERE IS A CASE" Hurley said that to his knowledge there is no case (of this kind) where obstinate silence has been a crime.

"There is a case if he knows (who shot him) but will not tell," Magistrate Oscar Orr replied.

Orr added that everything points to the fact that Semenick knows but won't tell. Two suspects were picked up but released when Semenick refused to identify them, and he was charged with attempting to obstruct justice.

Detective Morphet mentioned the names of Eddie Sheehan and Joe Marcoux as the suspects picked up in connection with the case.

Morphett quoted Semenick as saying "You are wrong there" in connection with Marcoux.

Semenick added, Morphet testified, "the (Marcoux) is just a stupid kid. Why not step a little higher and get the two Sicilians who got him up to this."

Semenick revealed for the first time, Morphet said, the details of the "last ride" on which two thugs took him about midnight, Nov. 3. Semenick had told Morphet that he was picked up by a car in the west end. After getting in the car, he was seized from behind and pulled into the back seat, where a man held a gun against his ear.

Semenick edged over to the door, got his elbow on the door handle, and as he shoved it down he and the man in the back seat fell out. It was then several shots were fired, although only one found its mark.

Semenick's hat, with a bullet hole in the crown, was produced as evidence.

Appearing wan and drawn, Semenick appeared in court smartly dressed. He carried a shiny black cane and walked with a noticeable limp.

Magistrate Orr adjourned the trial for one week.

Ike Agrees With Dulles On Blockade

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower agrees with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland's proposal to blockade Red China would amount to "war action," the White House said Tuesday.

Mr. Eisenhower's stand was disclosed by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty as Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson and other key Senate Democrats backed the administration in opposing a blockade now.

Knowland, who urged the blockade in an effort to force Red China to free American prisoners, stood by his guns.

He said the United Nations charter lists blockade action as a short-of-war step that may be taken in international disputes.

Hagerty noted that Dulles followed the customary practice of consulting with the chief executive in advance on his speech, and that Mr. Eisenhower "approved it."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told a news conference the question of Red China's sentencing of 13 Americans, including 11 airmen, is "being considered at a very high level."

Knowland told reporters his differences with the administration, actually are "not as great as some would make it appear."

He said he is perfectly willing to support any "effective" alternative to a blockade.

HISTORIC LAKE Lake Simcoe, north of Toronto, was discovered by Champlain in 1615 and later named after Governor Simcoe.

'THEY SLIPPED OFF ONE BY ONE'

Young U.K. Seaman Tells Story Of How Four Mates Lost Lives

MILFORD HAVEN, Wales (Reuters) — A young British seaman today described how, one by one, four of his mates lost their grip on a slippery, bobbing log and slid into the foaming Irish Sea after their ship sank in a storm.

He was one of the survivors of the British ship Tresillian, which keeled over in a raging gale Tuesday on a voyage from Montreal to Liverpool and sank with a loss of 24 lives including the skipper, Capt. W. J. Wynters.

Clement Griffith said the order to abandon ship came soon after daybreak and he and several other men leaped into the churning surf after a lifeboat they tried to grasp went adrift.

"I got on a log with five others but one by one they dropped off. They couldn't stick it. They didn't say anything. They just slipped away."

The ship keeled over during hurricane-force winds. One of the crew said he thought it was because the cargo of grain and barley suddenly shifted.

Another crew member, George Porter, said: "I heard Capt. Wynters yell 'abandon ship, every man for himself.' Men were jumping into the icy sea in all directions. I think all the crew got away from the ship."

Rescue ships brought some of the men here and others were taken to the Irish port of Cobh. Meanwhile, bright sunshine and gentle winds rippled over Britain today after five days of high winds and pouring rain.

Roads in 23 counties still lay under water but flood waters were receding in many places.

CNR Brakeman Killed In Snowstorm Crash

GLENCOE, Ont. (BUP)—One railwayman was killed and four others slightly injured today when a Wabash freight train crashed into the rear of a Canadian National freight in a snowstorm near here.

Fred Boyce, 63, of London, a CNR brakeman, was killed in the caboose of his standing train.

The injured men were Robert Ross, who had head and leg injuries, and Donald Platten, with a knee injury, both of St. Thomas; conductor Alex Little of London, who was taken to a London hospital; and engineer Jack Reith of St. Thomas, in charge of the Wabash train, who was shaken up and treated at the scene.

The CNR train had stopped at Glencoe, between London and Chatham, and was attempting to get under way with a heavy load. It had stopped one mile west of St. Thomas when it was rear-ended by the Wabash train, running at low speed through the heavy snow.

The caboose was smashed to kindling before the crew had a chance to jump. Three cars and the diesel were derailed, blocking both main lines. Traffic was maintained on a side-line.

Marilyn Bell Pleads With Mayor for Yule Scene

TORONTO (BUP)—A modern crusade of high school students led by swimmer Marilyn Bell to put a Nativity scene on the steps of Toronto's City Hall was rewarded today when Mayor Leslie Saunders indicated his official approval.

He said he thought the board of control would approve the move "so long as it offended no one."

McCarthy Foes Quote Letters Of Hate, Abuse

'Prairie Fire'
Of Fear Started

By HERBERT FOSTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—
Sen. J. William Fulbright
(D-Ark.) told the U.S. Senate
Tuesday that Sen. Joseph
R. McCarthy has touched off a "prairie fire" of fear and hate "which neither he nor anyone else may be able to control."

Fulbright, who filed some of the original charges against McCarthy, arose in mid-afternoon to read some of the letters he has received from supporters of the Wisconsin Republican. He asked his fellow senators to judge their "significance."

CENSURE MAY HELP
He then said that McCarthy
"has so preyed upon the fears and hatred of uninformed and credulous people that he has started a prairie fire." He said a vote of censure against Mc-Carthy might stop "the reckless excitement of hatreds and fears."

"It is no longer criticism," Fulbright said, "it is unadulterated hate, vituperation and abuse. It is highly emotional, irrational and designed to inflame and overawe the members of this body."

He said Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the special censure committee, was "subjected to the vilest kind of abuse" in the letters. He said Watkins "deserves vindication by this senate if this senate has any sense of honor left."

Fulbright said the letters also excoriated Sen. Herbert H.
Lehman (D-N.Y.) and Wayne
Morse (Ind-Ore.), other leaders in the fight against McCarthy.
Fulbright, reading from his correspondence, said a letter from a Peter Murphy of Buffalo, N.Y., called him "a fine, dirty red rat" and spoke of "red-loving Fulbright and rotten Jew Lehman, pal of Alger Hiss."

Another short note, whose writer Fulbright did not identify, suggested that he "lie Hyena Morse and Jackal Lehman around your rotten, dirty neck and jump into the Potomac."
Another wrote that "I'd spit on you . . . but you are not worthy of my saliva."

Fulbright said the letters are "evidence of a great sickness among our people" which he hopes censure action will cure.

Three Charged With Manslaughter In Quebec Death

ST. JEROME, Que. (CP)— Three persons have been charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Abner Raymond, whose frozen body was found in a ditch near here Nov. 3.

Mrs. Raymond, his 52-year-old wife, her daughter, Mrs. Andre Laurendeau, 18, and Alme Gauthier, 22, her son-in-law, had the manslaughter charge read against them after a coroner's jury held them responsible for Raymond's death. Each was ordered to post $950 bail.

Witnesses testified at the inquest that Raymond was driven into the bush and abandoned six miles from town. Provincial medico-legal expert Dr. Jean-Marie Roussel said Raymond died of a heart attack brought on by a chill while he was intoxicated.

FIGHTER DIES
LONDON (UP)—Bobbie Callaghan, 21-year-old fighter, died today in the London hospital where he was taken for a brain operation after collapsing at the end of his bout on Monday night.

Socreds Dishonest, Un-Canadian, Says MP

'Trying to Use Religious Freedom
As Means to Power' Declares Decore

CALGARY (CP)—In an indictment of Social Credit principles and practices, John Decore, MP (Lib.-Vegreville) blasted national and provincial leaders of that party Tuesday night in one of the strongest between-election speeches heard in Calgary for several years.

In a talk to members of the Calgary Liberal Association, he branded the Social Credit party as "un-Canadian, undemocratic and dishonest."

He charged that various religious radio broadcasts and speaking tours conducted by Premier Manning, plus statements made concerning them by Social Credit leaders, "showed the party was trying to use religious feeling as a means of gaining political power."

Mr. Decore said he was convinced the majority in Alberta and British Columbia would quickly overthrow the party if the methods and statements of its leaders were given the attention they deserve.
"The methods employed by the very prominent Social Credit leaders in Alberta and elsewhere are, to say the least, dishonest," the Alberta member said in introducing his topic.

PROMISED DIVIDEND
The dishonest methods went back to 1935 and the promise of a monthly $25 dividend, a dividend set at $75 "or possibly more" in the Aberhart manual, brought out about that time.
He contended recent statements by W. A. C. Bennett, B.C. premier, showed it was being continued.

When Premier Bennett said recently $38,000,000 had been cut from that province's debt by Social Credit he omitted to mention the same government had borrowed $60,000,000 during that period, Mr. Decore said.
Other examples could be found in the use of the Prophetic Bible Institute here by Social Credit founder William Aberhart and the "back to the Bible" hour of Premier Manning.

MARIE STILL HOMESICK

Quint Quits School, Back Home With Mum

MONTREAL (CP)—Marie
Dionne, frailest of the four surviving quintuplets, is back home in Callander, Ont., with her mother.

Marie's elder sister, Mrs.
Maurice Girouard of Waterloo, Que., said Tuesday night Marie left Marguerite Bourgeys College Nov. 1 with her sister Annette. Both quintes were studying at a school run by the Roman Catholic Congregation of Notre Dame.

"They left to spend All Saints' Day at home," Mrs. Girouard said in an interview. "But when she got there she saw Mum was lonely and decided to stay a while."

Annette returned to continue her studies in domestic science and piano, she said. Marie did not. She had been studying homemaking as well as French literature.
Girouard said Marie was not ill "but she needs peace and quiet."

"Marie is a very tired girl," she added.

United Effort Against Diseases Slashes Incidence, Fatalities

By AB. KENT

No one under 40 on Vancouver Island has died of tuberculosis so far this year—a remarkable achievement on the part of government sponsored clinics and the TB Society.

Advances made in the last five years in treatment of TB have cut incidence of the one-dread disease to about one in 2,500 persons examined.

To further extend this record, individuals may have free chest X-rays at their convenience at the government X-ray survey clinic operated in conjunction with Jubilee Hospital.

They may also purchase Christmas seals, sold in Victoria by the Soroptimist Club to provide funds for educational purposes and to help procure clinical equipment.

Surveys are only part of the work done by the province to eliminate tuberculosis. A chest diagnostic centre is also maintained in Victoria for Vancouver Island residents.

Here patients are given a thorough examination for tuberculosis after being referred there by family doctors or after a routine survey indicating possibility of TB.

AGE TAKES TOLL

According to Dr. R. M. Lane, medical director of the Vancouver Island Chest Centre, located next door to the survey clinic, the most serious incidence of TB in B. C. is still in elderly persons, often those living in poor conditions.

Older people, says Dr. Lane, are not likely to notice the disease until it has become established several years. Then it becomes difficult to stamp out.

"Tuberculosis is a slow-going pneumonia which leaves a scar," Dr. Lane defined it.

It eventually means that the lung loses its elasticity, and without that a person cannot breathe.

"Surgical treatment helps a lot in selected cases," said the director, "or cases which do not clear up under normal treatment."

LESS SURGERY USED
"Normal treatment" was defined as hospital care, use of drugs and plenty of rest. It is no longer common to deflate lungs or perform surgery, unlike a few years ago.

Even the recuperative period, which formerly extended from one of several years has been reduced to a maximum of a little more than a year in the majority of cases.

This period includes hospital treatment, and following the "take it easy" interval, patients are ready for light work.

Tuberculosis is still a fairly serious disease in the productive years of a person's life because of the time which must be spent away from work. Few other illnesses keep victims away from jobs for a year, said Dr. Lane.

But TB used to be "a death sentence, then a work sentence, and now it's a light sentence," Dr. Lane said.

YEARLY PROGRESS
In 1954 B.C. spent more than $3,000,000 on treatment and prevention of tuberculosis and the TB Society provided $100,000 for its work. It has paid off to date in that the number of cases being treated are fewer now than they were last year.

There are 44 beds for TB patients in Jubilee TB Pavilion, and 34 beds in St. Joseph's Hospital Villa, and at both places there are vacancies.

Operations are performed in a fully modern suite at Vancouver's Willow Chest Centre, funds for which were provided by the TB Society through Christmas seals. Also purchased by the society were mobile X-ray vans to serve outlying areas.

Dr. Lane, who was formerly with Tranquille sanitarium, near Kamloops, is involved in all phases of TB work at the Vancouver Island Chest Centre, even to going up-island with diagnostic clinics.

He has three full time doctors on his staff to assist with scanning X-ray films and diagnosing. They are Dr. J. R. Flanagan, Dr. A. Lawler and Dr. W. C. McCulloch.

Dr. Lane says that "really sick" sanitarium cases are "away down," but reminds that the susceptible bracket in men is from 25 to 40; in women from 20 to 35.

Get your chest X-rayed soon.

OCEAN MAMMAL

Walrus, flesh-eating mammals, are found in the far north Atlantic and the western Arctic ocean.

Aussies Capture First Test Match English Booters Trim German Side

LONDON (AP)—England defeated Germany 3-1 today in an international soccer game at Wembley Stadium.

The game was slower than expected, but the victory helped restore some of England's lost prestige.

England led 1-0 at the end of the first half. England's goals were scored by Roy Bentley, Ronnie Allen and Len Shackleton. Alfred Beck scored Germany's goal.

England, sparked by its brilliant wingers, Stan Matthews and Tom Finney, finished the game toying with the weakened world champions. But for almost incredibly poor shooting, England might have had at least six goals.

Germany won the world soccer championship in Switzerland earlier this year. The team that lost to England today was a mere shadow of that squad, having lost eight players because of illness or injury.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Victoria Kins, a basketball team of high repute, last year won the British Columbia women's senior championship.

Vancouver Eilers, a basketball team of greater reputation but less repute, as events will indicate, last year won the Canadian women's senior championship.

Victoria Kins this year have no competition in their class in their own back yard. They play against boys' teams and any other team willing to resolve difference of technique on the maple court.

Vancouver Eilers this year have no competition in their court yard. They play against boys' teams and any other team which happens to have an open night.

Victoria Kins have offered to play Vancouver Eilers in an exhibition game, exhibition games, or a series of exhibition games, here, there or anywhere.

Vancouver Eilers do not entertain a reciprocal desire, nor do they have the courtesy to reply to the invitation of the Victoria team.

This, you might imagine, is an outgrowth of something that happened previously. Which it did. LAST SPRING.

The Victoria club failed to fulfill financial commitments qualifying them for the right to contest the Dominion basketball series. Vancouver Eilers had no such monetary problems and when the last basket had swished through the hoop they were Dominion champions for the fifth straight time.

Can't Lose if They Don't Play

However, in a series with Kins for the British Columbia championship, Eilers didn't have that championship class they were later to display. Victoria Kins took that honor and, following several ensuing discussions, Eilers finally declined to put their newly-won title on the line against their previous conquerors. At any rate, they never once agreed to come back to Victoria and, apparently, are still of the same opinion.

The only obvious conclusion that can be drawn from such a stand is that Vancouver Eilers fear for their basketball lives from the Victoria team. They feel, no doubt, that by staving the Victoria team of the competition needed to become more accomplished than the Kins are at present, they will have the odds slightly in their favor next spring, especially as next year's B.C. series is scheduled for the mainland.

This is indeed a noble gesture on the part of Eilers. It suits their dignity as champions. For why should they attempt to give basketball a helping hand? It hasn't done anything for them—just five Dominion championships, that's all! Why should they let anyone else get in on their own private little clambake? Fostering the sport, obviously, is not one of their ideals. Champions are supposed to rest on their laurels, aren't they?

Bitten Once, Real Shy Now

Meanwhile the Eilers are crying with one eye that they can't get competition and sneering with the other that Victoria Kins can go peddle their papers.

As stated in a Vancouver newspaper recently, Eilers . . . "are not eager to renew acquaintance . . . because they . . . suffered physical injury in an exhibition series last spring . . ."

The so-called "exhibition" series was the B.C. championship despite Vancouver attempts to cloud the issue.

The physical injury, more than likely, was a deep hurt to Eilers' pride. They literally were stung to the quick, and, by their recent attitude, certainly haven't recovered yet, and are quick to admit it.

Canadian champions? In name only!

HEPBURN SORRY

'I Blew My Top' Says Doug

TORONTO (CP)—Doug Hephburn recently said he was disappointed because his home town of Vancouver didn't give him a big reception after he won the world's weight-lifting championship in Europe last summer.

But Tuesday, on a tour of eastern Canada, he confessed in an interview he's sorry he said it.

"I blew my top," he said. "Now I know I was wrong and shouldn't have said such a thing. I got mad when I saw the wonderful reception Toronto gave Marilyn Bell after she swam Lake Ontario. I began to think that perhaps Vancouver—and I don't mean the average citizen—didn't appreciate having the world's strongest man for a citizen. Now I know I shouldn't have said it, and I'm sorry."

Take Lead In Series For 'Ashes'

BRISBANE (Reuters)—Australia won the first of the five-match Test series for cricket's mythical "Ashes" here today when she beat England by an innings and 154 runs with more than a day to spare.

Always fighting a losing battle, England today carried her overnight score of 130 for two wickets to 257 before being all out just after tea to give Australia the opening victory.

England had followed on Tuesday when replying with 190 in their first innings to Australia's 601 for eight wickets declared.

Any hopes England had of staying off defeat were shattered this morning when Bill Edrich and Peter May, the overnight batsmen, were out with only 33 added.

Colin Cowdrey and Trevor Bailey, who checked Australian bowlers in the first innings, did not enjoy the same success in the second, though Bailey held out for 90 minutes to score 23.

BATS DESPITE INJURY

Denis Compton batted again today despite a broken finger. He came in 10th but failed to score, being caught behind the wicket.

A heavy downpour held up play for 35 minutes before lunch, but it had little effect on the pitch.

Though spinners Ian Johnson and Richie Benaud enjoyed most success, Ray Lindwall again proved his capabilities by breaking through at vital stages.

He took the first wicket today when he had May leg before after 17 runs had been added and later, in the afternoon, he captured the valuable wicket of Trevor Bailey.

van Brocklin Top Passer In Pro Grid

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—With the National Football League season moving down the home stretch, Norman van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams maintained his passing leadership in statistics released today.

Cleveland's Otto Graham, defending champion in the passing department, moved up from fifth to second. Van Brocklin now has an average gain of 10.34 yards with 124 completions out of 229 passes attempted and has tossed for 11 touchdowns. Graham has connected with 121 out of 207 and the same number of touchdowns.

Third spot among the NFL passers is held by Tom Dubinski of Detroit with an average gain of 9.94. Teammate Bobby Layne is fourth with 9.92.

Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers is well on his way to a successful defense of his NFL ball carrying honors. Perry has gained 870 yards on 135 attempts for a 6.4 yard average. Second is teammate John Henry Johnson with 634 yards. Paul Younger, of Los Angeles, now out with an injury, is third at 610, followed by Dan Towler of Los Angeles at 523.

Fletcher, actually a junior club that moved into the senior loop for experience, turned in a sharp first half and were only four points shy at the half-time whistle.

However, Individuals' superior fire-power and depth made the difference in the second half as they pulled away to the win.

Bill Bamford was the top point-maker for Individuals with 11 and Duff McCaghey and Don Donahue added nine each. For the losers, Paul Simpson hooped 11 and Gary Gilbert added 10.

WORLD JUNIOR GOLF TOURNEY PGA PROPOSAL

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A proposal for a world junior golf tournament was offered at a recent meeting of golf tournament sponsors in connection with the annual convention of the Professional Golfers Association.

Harry Keefe of Hartford, Conn., president of the sponsors' group, suggested a tournament to bring together winners and runners-up of the United States Golf Association junior tournament, the Jaycee junior, the national caddy championship, the Hearst junior, the Royal Canadian Golf Association junior and the international junior tourney played in France.

While Patrick was giving the lowdown on his shuffling, the front-running Montreal Canadiens came from behind to tie the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 3-3 at Omaha in the only league game Tuesday night.

It was Floyd Curry's goal at 18:14 of the third period that evened the count and lengthened Canadiens' league lead to seven points over Leafs. The engagement, a regular game transferred from Chicago, attracted only 4,508 fans.

Jerry Toppazzini, Alan Stanley and Gordie Hollingsworth scored for Hawks. Maurice Richard and Jean Beliveau tallied the other Montreal goals to give Canadiens their second deadlock in a week against Hawks.

Two games are scheduled for tonight. Besides the Boston Toronto match, the third-place Detroit Red Wings take on the fourth-place Rangers at New York.

Royals Bid For Lead Here Tonight

Victoria 3, Vancouver 3

Victoria Cougars, tired and hungry, and the New Westminster Royals, battered and hungry, will battle at Memorial Arena tonight to see which of the two is the more hungry.

Cougars, still fighting to fill their tummies with enough victims to pull them into the top three, were only half-successful Tuesday night as they shared their meal with Vancouver Canucks.

However, Tuesday's 3-3 tie with the Canucks in Vancouver was a pleasing conclusion to a rugged road trip that saw the Cougars pick up five out of a possible 10 points in the eight-day, five-game trip.

New Westminster still has glowing eyes for first place and they could take over the lead tonight if they beat the Cougars. Royals are only one point behind the potent Edmonton Flyers, idle tonight.

While Cougars return home in comparatively good shape, Royals will have three players answering the call. Not available for duty tonight will be forward Fred Saskamoose, charley-horse; defenseman Jim Bedard, shoulder separation; and defenseman Gordon Sinclair, charley-horse.

BUCKY SPARK

Speaking of injuries, it was Bucky, after spending most of the season in the splint room, who baited Cougars out Tuesday night.

Bucky was playing right wing Tuesday day to a pre-game injury to Mark Marquess, who suffered a bruised shoulder.

After Canucks pulled away to a fast 2-0 lead in the first period, the rookie defenseman rattled two goals past Benty in a little more than four minutes to square it at 2-2.

Pete Durham picked up a penalty at 6:41 of the first period and while he was serving his time, Doug Adam scored twice for Canucks' two-goal bulge.

However, Bucky, scoring twice on passes from Billy Reay, put the Cougars on solid footing.

There was no scoring in the second period, but Cougars made their bid in the third period when Doug Macauley scored from linemates Colin Kilburn and Doug Anderson at 21 seconds.

Rookie John Reeve got his first goal of the season when his lead shot hopped over Marcel Pelletier's stick at 3:56 to tie it.

Game time tonight is 8:30.

STAMPS WIN

In Tuesday's other contest, Calgary Stampede's stopped Saskatoon Quakers, 5-3. Stamps are three points ahead of the Cougars and two points behind the leaders.

Grey Cup Telecast Had Stiff Competition

By MEL SUFRIN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—Television brought the Grey Cup game to viewers in the United States last Saturday but the Canadian football classic was up against some stiff competition.

The Army-Navy game in Philadelphia was nationally televised on the American Broadcasting Company network, starting a half-hour after the Edmonton-Montreal game kicked off on the National Broadcasting Company.

Although the Grey Cup final in Toronto was a thriller, with Edmonton winning 26-25 in the last few minutes, its audience in the United States was sharply cut by the Army-Navy battle, a game which rates as the big national attraction of the regular American college football season.

Tom Gallery, sports director of NBC, estimated Tuesday that some 90 TV stations throughout the United States carried the Grey Cup.

But, he added, NBC didn't bother to have the size of the audience checked by the rating companies because it was felt the Grey Cup couldn't hope to compete with the Army-Navy game, won 27-20 by Navy.

Gallery said the Edmonton-Montreal meeting "was as fine a football game as I've ever looked at." He said, however, there couldn't have been a tougher day on which to try to sell the Canadian final to American viewers.

GREY CUP RECEIPTS HIGHEST IN HISTORY

TORONTO (BUP)—Gross receipts from Saturday's Grey Cup games are expected to total $215,000, the highest in history for the East-West football final, and the leagues should split a net of $177,000.

Harry McBrien, secretary of the Canadian Rugby Union which gets 12½ per cent of the net, figured it this way:

Gate, $143,000 less $22,000 rental and $16,000 Ontario hospital tax, or a net of $105,000.

Television, $45,000; radio, $17,000; movies, $8,500; program, $1,500.

The $166,940 in revenue for the 1953 final was the previous record. Biggest boost this year came in the $72,000 paid for TV-radio-movie program rights. Last year this department brought $40,000.

Inter-Collegiate Hoop League Planned Here

A five-team inter-collegiate basketball league may be organized here this month.

Dave McLay, a faculty member at Victoria College, said on Tuesday that, although no final arrangements have been made, there is every indication that a league catering to Victoria College, Normal School, Royal Roads, HMCS Venture and Pedigogs will be formed in the near future.

Tentative plans call for the league to open its schedule early in January.

The league would be formed, McLay said, with the intention of having a local circuit of a calibre comparable to the University of British Columbia junior varsity squad and to create a larger fan interest in basketball in Victoria.

An organizational meeting will be held early this month, when final arrangements are expected to be completed.

No gyms have as yet been obtained for the proposed league but prospective teams for the league are planning games for this week-end in a test of strength.

Friday night at Oak Bay Junior High School, Victoria College first team is scheduled to meet Normal School first, while Pedigogs, a team composed of teachers, clash with Normal School second and College second goes against Oak Bay High School.

Other games will likely be arranged for Saturday night.

V's Increase Hockey Lead

The advancing Victoria V's continued to strengthen their Okanagan Senior Hockey League lead Tuesday by whipping Vernon 7-4 in typical come-from-behind style, and the Kamloops Elks moved into second place with a 5-2 win over Kelowna.

In the Western International League the last-place Trail Smoke Eaters continued their winning streak by blanking Nelson 4-0 at Trail.

V's trailed 2-1 at the end of the first period, but turned on the pressure for four goals, the last of which came in the third frame.

Friday night at Oak Bay Junior High School, Victoria College first team is scheduled to meet Normal School first,

Esquimalt Cagers To Host Cowichan

Esquimalt High School basketballers will face their first out-of-town competition of the season Friday when they host Lake Cowichan High in a two-game card at the school gym.

Esquimalt and Lake Cowichan senior boys' teams will meet in a feature contest at 8:30, while senior girls' teams from the two schools play a preliminary game at 7:30.

In six games played to date, Esquimalt boys have a commendable record of five victories in six starts, losing once to Normal School. They hold decisions over Victoria College, Grads, Cec Fletchers, St. Louis College and Royal Roads.

Team captain Chuck Bennett, alternate forward-guard Joe Patterson and Mike Jeffery have been mainstays of the team.

Jeffery last season was selected to the Vancouver Island second all-star team at the annual high school championships.

Esquimalt girls have lost two decisions, being defeated by Normal School and Victoria College. Pat Lisle is the only returnee from last season's squad.

May Alter Schedule

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—The Big Four Football Conference may return to a 12-game schedule next year.

Frank Gibson, chairman of the league's schedule committee, said there was a "very good chance" that this year's 13-game slate will be slashed again because "there seems to be too many problems connected with the present play pattern."

WHOLESALE CHANGE

Ring Lists Reshuffled

NEW YORK (AP)—The crowning of two new champions, and the results of several bouts among leading contenders the past month brought about a wholesale reshuffling of the positions of boxing contenders in the latest Ring Magazine ratings.

In the lightweight division, ex-champion Jimmy Carter regained the 135-pound title for the second time by whipping Paddy De Marco. De Marco was given the No. 1 contender's berth that Carter held.

Argentina's Pascual Perez won the flyweight championship from Japan's Yoshio Shirai. Shirai became the No. 1 contender and Leo Espinosa of the Philippines who had been first was dropped to second with unbeaten Dai Dower of Wales third.

OTHER CHANGES

Other shifts in the lightweight division saw undefeated Frankie Ryff of New York advance to fifth place as a result of Art Persley's TKO loss to Wallace Bud Smith. Persley, of Red Cross, La., was demoted from fifth to sixth.

Featherweight Teddy Red Top Davis of Hartford, Conn.,

Salmon Derby Earned $485 At Ganges

GANGES—Gross receipts from the annual salmon derby of Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club in August were $485. It was announced at an executive meeting of the club. Since the derby was not intended to be a money-making scheme, almost the entire sum was spent on prizes. It was announced.

The executive decided to ask the game department to start the bass fishing season on St. Mary Lake March 1, same date as the opening of the trout season.

Annual game banquet was set for Dec. 6, and Dec. 12 and 19 were set aside for the annual turkey shoot on the Harbour House Hotel grounds.

It was decided that open sights only would be allowed on rifles used in the competition.

Post Office Survey Based on Referendum

ALBERNI—Postal authorities will be prepared to conduct a fresh survey of the city to determine boundaries of postal service, if the city agrees to put a referendum to the ratepayers on the question of a carrier service.

Addressing a combined meeting of the Alberni City Council and Board of Trade, district director of postal services W. H. Wilson said:

"It is because of your close proximity to a delivery office that we are able to provide a carrier service." It is common knowledge that there is a federal building in the offing for Port Alberni, as it is a large distributing office for the west coast.

KEY IDENTITY Mr. Wilson assured his listeners that the city of Alberni would not lose its identity.

"But our present office would become extinct," Ald T. Thompson said.

"That is so," Mr. Wilson replied. Board of trade members were reluctant to ask for a letter carrier service which would mean the loss of Alberni post office. Five people are employed

Lively Race Promised at Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—All civic candidates for the Dec. 9 elections must be nominated here and in Alberni by Thursday.

While there is no election for the mayoralty here this year, there is to be a lively contest for aldermanic seats. Aldermen J. Perry, R. Dalton and William Goddard, whose terms expire Dec. 31, will be in the contest. Other candidates nominated at this time are Nat Shaw, A. C. Flanagan and Alf Plant.

In Alberni, Aldermen Elmer Churchill, Fred Bishop, and James Trebett are in the running. Other contestants for the three seats to be filled are Charles Taylor and Terry Neale.

For school trustee there are two to be elected for Port Alberni, and three for Alberni. Trustee Don Fraser will run, and William Howsome has been nominated for Port Alberni.

C. Saanich Reeveship Sole Election Fight

Acclamations Appear Certain for Council; No Candidates for Saanich School Trustee

SAANICHTON—Municipal nominations here, that close at noon Thursday, indicate to date that only the position of reeve will be contested.

Candidates will be H. Rupert Brown, Brentwood businessman, and Clr. Willard Mitchell, Keating dairy farmer.

Out of the running are Clr. Ray Lamont, who withdrew his candidacy, and Clr. Harold Andrew, who had considered seeking the reeveship but announced definitely he would not be a candidate.

With only two vacant seats on the council, acclamations seem certain since the only two candidates to signify their intention to run are Harry Peard, former boat service operator, and John Windsor, blind war veteran.

George Moody is the only person to show interest in the post of police commissioner, and to date there are no aspirants for seats on the School District 63 board of trustees.

Brentwood district will be unusually well represented on the council unless drastic changes take place between now and nomination deadline.

Mr. Peard, Mr. Windsor, Clr. Andrew and Mr. Brown all live in the Brentwood district. Only Clr. Mitchell and Clr. Peter Warren live elsewhere.

Voting will take place Dec. 9.

NEW ESSO EXTRA WINTER GASOLINE

prevents carburetor icing and gas line freezing

Does your car stall when idling? Research now proves a major cause of this is ice in the carburetor and gas line! Yes, ice! Even at above-freezing temperatures—in fact up to 55°F—ice forms. To overcome this, Imperial Oil developed NEW Esso Extra with special anti-icing qualities that prevent stalling. This new gasoline also prevents gas line freezing... you no longer need to add remedies to the gas tank.

If you stall, don't blame your engine until you try new Esso EXTRA

NEW ESSO EXTRA PREVENTS STALLING DUE TO CARBURETOR ICING

As you start your car, air is sucked through the carburetor and gasoline enters the air stream. As the gasoline evaporates, it chills the carburetor. With other gasolines moisture in the air condenses on this chilled metal and freezes into ice, if the humidity is high and the temperature between 55° and 28°F. When idling, the ice forms a bridge between throttle plate and carburetor wall, the flow of the fuel mixture (see arrow, left) is stopped... the car stalls. New Esso Extra prevents the formation of ice from the moisture in the air. Provided your car has no mechanical defects that cause stalls, you get smooth, trouble-free performance.

"I CAN'T STOP"

... I am swinging at everything in my life that I hate. I am busting my way out the whole stinking, dark world that won't let me go straight. Who cares I'm bleeding and blind and dizzy? I'm busting out the world of stopped-up toilets, of the cold, rubbery, macaroni that makes you sick instead of full up, the handcuff that cuts into your wristbone, the judges and D.A.'s who make you say things you don't mean, everybody who spits on you and calls you a Guinea punk, everybody who laughs at you when your big brother knocks you off your feet. I'm storing this guy's head in. I'm punching his guts out. I don't know whether this guy is a cop or a guard or somebody who rattled on me or Tony Zale or who, but I'm getting revenge.

Happy Shopping

Silvered Christmas trees are in place on the lamp standards in the 700 Block, Yates Street. The big Christmas greetings signs are suspended across the road at Blanshard Street and at Douglas Street and every store within the block is decorated for the holiday season.

There's an air of bustle and stir on the street. Family groups hurrying along or strolling the length of the block—window shopping—as they decide what to give their friends and relatives.

In this 700 Block, Yates Street, there is something for everybody—and to suit every purse.

There are gifts for father, mother, sister and brother, grandmother and grandfather, uncle and aunt. There's a wide variety of choice, too, in the many stores along the block.

Store owners in the block have arranged a number of extra attractions in these weeks before Christmas, including free tickets to a children's Saturday morning show at the Odeon Theatre, a series of three weekly money prizes and a grand money prize on Christmas Eve.

Santa Claus is also to be found in the 700 Block, Yates Street. He will be in the Odeon Theatre for the children's show each Saturday morning and, nearer the Christmas season, he will make personal visits to various stores in the block.

An added attraction this week is a fashion showing in the Odeon Theatre on Thursday evening, arranged by Scurrah's Ltd. Styles presented will include all the gay frocks for all occasions in the holiday season.

Now—and in the next four weeks—the 700 Block, Yates Street, will be the mecca for family buying for the Christmas season. To the point that if Mother doesn't wish to go all the way home to cook dinner for Father and the children, there are even good restaurants and coffee shops, serving family meals at reasonable prices, right within the length of the block.

To mark the opening of "A Woman's World," at the Odeon Theatre, Thursday evening, Scurrah's Ltd. have arranged a fashion showing in the foyer of the theatre. The 20-minute show, presented before the two showings of the feature picture Thursday evening will present a selection of afternoon dresses, cocktail frocks, evening gowns and separates for Christmas holiday dates. Ida Bianco will be commentator, and the pretty models will include Mrs. Elliott Brown and Miss Sonia Shisarenko, left to right, also Miss Margo Graham, Miss Eleanor Anderson and Miss Alethea Redgment.

Gift Lamps

Color (with emphasis on pink) in stores in the 700 block Yates Street, is apparent in new lamps for the first time in more than 10 years.

With the revival of color there comes use of sparkling, glowing materials to light up a home. And there's one other revival of importance: the use of glass in many delicate treatments.

Polished brass goes on in continued popularity, used in new ways in combination with new materials and with color.

Contemporary designs stress elegant simplicity that will fit in with decor of all types. This means uncluttered forms: bottles, urns, cones, cages and tapered stems. Some of these get a homey touch through mergers with candlestick and fountain motifs.

Pink is a lamp color shown for Christmas and it's in china, glass, pottery, composition and leather. Sometimes it's teamed with white or brass accents and sometimes it's used in place of black.

G. K. SAMMON

City Man Now DVA Workers' National VP

Senior laboratory technician at Veterans' Hospital here, G. K. "Gerry" Sammon has been named dominion vice-president of DVA Employees' National Association.

Mr. Sammon, who is also an Esquimalt councillor, will resign as regional president for B.C. in order to take the No. 2 position on the national executive.

Mr. Sammon returned on the week-end from a seven-day national executive meeting in Ottawa.

He said the group conferred with Civil Service commissioner C. H. Bland and deputy minister of Veterans' Affairs, Col. Lucien LaLonde.

Discussions centred on the question of total inception of a 40-hour week for federal hospital employees, increased mileage rates for those employees who must drive in the course of duty and more equitable salary classification for hospital pharmacists, stenographers, typists and clerks.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATE NOW SOCRED

Hume's Opponent Admits Change

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Archie Proctor, independent candidate for mayor in the December elections, revealed Tuesday night he has been a Social Creditor for two and one-half years.

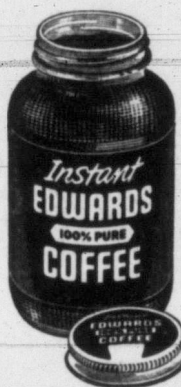

Proctor, a former strong Liberal supporter, claimed he changed parties because he had lost confidence in the old coalition government in British Columbia.

However, Proctor said his political affiliations would make no difference in his campaign for the mayoralty on an independent ticket.

The announcement created the greatest interest in the Dec. 9 election since the campaign officially opened.

Jury in Pursey Case Disagrees, New Trial

MONTREAL (CP)—A 12-man jury disagreed Tuesday in the case of Lillian Pursey, one-time Hungarian noblewoman who is charged with knowingly possessing $1,700 in fake money, and date for a new trial was set at February 1.

The thrice-married former baroness, arrested here September 20 while on a honeymoon trip, listened calmly as the foreman of the jury reported it was "evenly divided" and there was no chance of agreement.

The trial began Monday and the woman, now the wife of Cmdr. Harry Pursey, Labor member of the British House of Commons for East Hull, took the witness box for long periods both days.

The attractive, petite Mrs. Pursey—so tiny she had to tilt her head backward to watch proceedings over the brass rail of the prisoner's dock—was told by Mr. Justice Wilfred Lazure she will remain on the same $5,000 bond until the new trial.

Her husband, who flew from England last week, was among the spectators and got to his feet to direct a reassuring look to his wife.

Mrs. Pursey, 41, was arrested when she returned for the second time to a downtown furrier's and RCMP found more than $1,700 in United States counterfeit currency in her bag.

In his charge to the jury, Mr. Justice Lazure said "Fancy, fear or lack of courage do not constitute a reasonable doubt." He noted Mrs. Pursey did not deny carrying the counterfeit cash and added that "knowing it to be forged" was the key phrase in the charge against her.

NELSON BISHOP COADJUTOR IN VANCOUVER

OTTAWA (CP)—Most Rev. Martin Michael Johnson, bishop of Nelson, B.C., has been appointed titular archbishop of Cio and coadjutor-archbishop of Vancouver, Most Rev. G. Panice, apostolic delegate to Canada, announced today.

The brief announcement said Bishop Johnson, who has served in his Nelson post since 1936, will be coadjutor to Most Rev. William Mark Duke, Roman Catholic bishop of Vancouver. The appointment included the right of succession.

Surrey Turns Down New Liquor Outlets

SURREY (BUP)—Residents of Surrey Tuesday turned down a liquor plebiscite on the sale of beer and wine with meals. Only 1,600 of the 20,100 eligible voters turned up at the polls and cast their ballots, returning officers said.

University Training For Teachers Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Every teacher in B.C. should spend some time at university, Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of UBC, said here Tuesday night.

In an address to the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the province, Dr. MacKenzie called for such training, or as an alternative, to place responsibility for their education under control of the university.

16 Victoria Daily Times WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1954

He said that this would not be easy to bring about, but should be the goal of education organizations in the province.

Secrecy at City Hall Annoys Women Aspirants for Council

Firm support for proposed amalgamation of Victoria and surrounding municipalities was voiced Tuesday night by city aldermanic candidate Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

She was one of four women candidates in forthcoming municipal elections who spoke to a public meeting at the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club.

She stated: "I believe in amalgamation and will do all I can to bring it about."

The only other aldermanic candidate present, Miss Jane Hall, told a questioner that amalgamation will be up to the voter.

She said: "For 25 years we have had surveys and recommendations... it will be you, the taxpayer, who will make the decision... I am sure a by-law will be presented to the taxpayers."

Secrecy in city hall was scored by both Mrs. Wilson and Miss Hall, but both thought some phases of municipal business should be done in camera.

Said Mrs. Wilson: "I do not believe in secrecy, but if justice does not require exposure, it should not be broadcast for the world."

Miss Hall commented to questioners: "My aim is to strive for preservation of freedoms. Civic affairs are taxpayers' affairs." She explained to reporters following the meeting that in some instances, such as discussions of municipal business which might create speculation which would react to the public detriment, in-camera council sessions are necessary.

Miss Hall is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

With regard to intermunicipal participation in library board decisions, she stated: "Although the Carnegie Institute made the library grant originally, four municipalities contributed to the new building."

"It is only logical that the municipalities should have some voice in administration," she added.

Mrs. Wilson, former teacher, soloist and past president of the Women's Canadian Club, said also she favored the Gorge reclamation plan which is now under study. She felt that the Victoria Symphony and Arts Centre should be encouraged, too.

Speeches of the four candidates, including school board,

Mrs. W. W. McGill and Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell, were limited to generalities. It was in response to active questioning that opinions were passed on more vital matters.

None of the questioners were men. There were about 70 women present and only three men.

Mrs. McGill, who has been on Saanich school board five years and is so far unopposed for re-election, recently headed a $1,634 Save the Children Fund collection project. She is an ex-school teacher.

She explained highlights of the forthcoming school board referendum and struck at public apathy in turning out to vote.

Mrs. McGill said she regretted the fact that no one seemed willing to seek school board office. "I have never been contested at any time. It is not a healthy condition."

Mrs. Maunsell outlined duties of the school board. She gave statistics showing that in Canada there is one marriage every four minutes and a birth every 75 seconds, proof, she said, of the continual demand for greater school facilities. She has been three years on the board.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

All constituents will agree that Western Music, with its adonoidal cowboys wailing over lost loves, makes a great contribution to culture.

But I have a complaint to make. Victoria has been neglected in this field. After all, isn't Victoria as far West as you can get without falling off the Canadian map?

And has anyone ever written a Victorian Western Song? I voiced this complaint to the people at CKDA who are responsible for getting the synthetic cowboys and hokum hill-billies on the air.

"Why not a Western song about Victoria?" I asked.

And they said: "Go write one, and we will put it on the air. With music, yet."

Little did they know I would. As follows:

WHEN THE SUN GOES DOWN IN JUAN DE FUCA STRAIT

When th' sun goes da-own agin' / In Juan de Fuca Strait,
It won't come up no more / 'Cause yew guv me th' gate
Grapefruit rinds sail along so trew,
But neva' agin' ah'll be seein' of yew,
As ah gaze upon the waters, cruel, cruel waters,
And the foghorn blows "Eeeeeeeeeee-Yoh!"

When the sun sinks very deep / In Juan de Fuca Strait
It's round red face will hide / from such a gruesome fate,
Tho' Flo can swim in th' ocean blew,
Ah can't git into the swim with yew,
As ah gaze upon the waters, cruel, cruel waters,
And the foghorn blows "Eeeeeeeeeee-Yoh!"

Now the sun is gone for shore / In Juan de Fuca Strait,
And fog has got me down / I'm in an awful state,
Ah see th' scow, and th' garbage, tew,
But dang yer hide, ah can't see yew,
As ah gaze upon the waters, cruel, cruel waters,
And the foghorn blows "Eeeeeeeeeee-Yoh!"

When th' sun goes da-own agin' / In Juan de Fuca Strait, Ah'll foller as it sinks / then ah'll be sakin' bait,
Ah lost mah horse, mah saddle tew,
Thesh's no rain here, we call it dew,
As ah gaze upon the waters, cruel, cruel waters,
And the foghorn blows "Eeeeeeeeeee-Yoh!"

Okay CKDA, your bluff is called. Let's see you get that on the air.

DROODLES

Not many people know that the bowling ball was in existence for 900 years before anyone ever bowled. Ancient scientists spent years trying to figure out what to do with bowling balls. They used to chain them to the legs of prisoners. They encouraged children with large hands to play marbles with them and one enterprising alchemist amassed a fortune by selling them to the Visigoths for unbreakable balloons. But one day a Turk happened to carry one into what we now call a bowling alley, dropped it, and it accidentally rolled down and knocked over the pins and so bowling was invented. What other columns bring you interesting facts like that? None other, that's what other!

Toys valued at $12 and a $27 badminton racket and press were stolen from cars of A. C. Trace, 3955 Shelbourne and R. Hadley, 1144 Empress, respectively, on Monday night. Both cars had been parked in the downtown area at the time, police reported.

"I have six youngsters and an invalid mother depending on me. I had to take a chance. There was no other way of getting to work." So said Donald Williams, Sidney, in city police court today where he pleaded guilty to driving while disqualified. Police said Williams was convicted of impaired driving and driving without a license within the last month. Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded him to Thursday for sentence.

Death stalked a golden-haired tot in the Gorge waters Tuesday—but was foiled by spry 68-year-old Ernest Stradiotto. This morning Stanley Nelson

Wrong Exit Costs City Motorist $2.50

A little-used regulation today cost Norman Wright, Victoria, $2.50. He was fined for getting out of his car on the driver's side.

Police Flouted for Swindle-Papers

Aldermanic candidate W. A. Scott has refused to surrender his driver's license to Oak Bay police until such time as City Police Chief John Blackstock returns to him certain papers which Mr. Scott says city police have had since the time of the Clyde Gilles swindle case in 1950.

Oak Bay police called for Mr. Scott's license because he failed to report for re-examination by the Motor Vehicle Branch. The policeman who came to my door said I might be subject to six months imprisonment if I did not surrender my license, Mr. Scott said. "But I told him I would not give it up until I received certain documents

He sent the children home once but later they returned to a point about 50 feet down-shore. He kept an eye on them and when they yelled and ran away he looked more carefully. He saw the body of one of them floating face down in the murky Gorge waters.

He had an important date. He was going to see his "boy" at St. Joseph's Hospital—the boy he saved from drowning Tuesday.

"D'poor leetle keedy," he said and he wanted to gather golden-haired Stanley Nelson, 2½, into his arms.

When 68-year-old Grandpa Stradiotto last saw Stanley, the child was collapsed in his arms. It was fast action and home-made first aid by the aging Italian-Canadian that saved his life.

Mr. Stradiotto, two years retired after 33 years at Silver Spring Brewery, had been gathering driftwood on Bonds Beach below Banfield Park Tuesday morning. Four youngsters were playing on the rocks at the water's edge.

"Why they put a fence at top of the park by the road? Why not at bottom by the water where the danger is?" he says.

Mr. Stradiotto learned about water dangers in his boyhood. He grew up in Venice, the city of canals. It may have been some forgotten experience from his youth that saved Stanley.

Mr. Stradiotto came here in 1912. He and his wife had two daughters. "Girls are better than nothing," he laughs. Later there were two grand-children, both boys. "But recently their parents took them to Quenesel. Since then there has been gloom in the well-kept Stradiotto home at 615 Belton.

"No kids."

He made clear he felt no personal antagonism toward Chief Blackstock but said as head of the department he must assume responsibility. Papers which Mr. Scott wants the police to give him, he says, are documents he produced during investigation of the Clyde A. Gilles activities here. Gilles was sent to prison for swindling. Mr. Scott, a victim of one swindle, lost $9,000.

With regard to the driver's license, Mr. Scott said: "I don't own a car and I don't drive."

Island Heroes Hailed

Humane Awards Given to Three

A 67-year-old Victoria trucking man, a 16-year-old Rainbow sea cadet and 12-year-old Crofton schoolboy today were cited by the Royal Canadian Humane Association to receive parchment certificates for heroism.

The three Island recipients are:

Edward Le Bus, of Vancouver Island Trucking Co., Ltd., 2535 Blackwood; Raymond Lorne Bell, grade 10 student at Mount Douglas High School, 1683 McRae Avenue.

Gary Strazza, 12, of Crofton. Nine other British Columbians will also receive parchments. This province took half of the 24 certificates awarded for the whole of Canada.

Mr. Le Bus receives his certificate for the rescue of four-year-old Roy Rhymmer from drowning in the upper harbor, June 6.

"I didn't expect anything like that," Mr. Le Bus said when informed of his award by the Times.

LAKE RESCUE

Raymond Bell receives his award for saving Gary Quick, 4563 Wilkinson Road, from drowning last June 30 at Beaver Lake.

Raymond received a hint several days ago that he was to receive a certificate. He admitted, however, that it had come as "a surprise."

Mrs. Stanley M. Bell, his mother, thought the announcement "just wonderful."

"He received a certificate from the Sea Cadets last September," Mrs. Bell related. "We were thrilled then and we thought that was to be the end of it."

Raymond's heroism was recorded on a Sunday afternoon. He was called upon to put his sea cadet training to use when Gary Quick was overcome some distance from shore and disappeared beneath the surface. Raymond jumped in and swam underwater to find the younger boy. He found him unconscious on the lake bottom and brought him to shore where adults applied artificial respiration.

JUST "INCIDENT"

Raymond refers to the rescue simply as "an incident."

"I'd never seen Gary before in my life," he recalled today. "But after the incident, I went to see him and we got acquainted."

Mr. Le Bus jumped into the cold water near VMD's Bay Street yard when the four-year-old Rhymmer boy toppled off a nearby wharf. He got to the child and brought him to shore before the boy suffered any ill effects.

Gary Strazza, Crofton, receives his parchment certificate for the rescue of Lance Compton, four, who nearly drowned at Crofton, July 28.

Saanich Group Protests Libel Law's Strictness

Saanich Progressive Conservatives have pledged themselves to "fight" a growing tendency in Canada to "muzzle" the freedom of the press through restrictive laws and legislation.

The pledge to defend the principle of a "free press" was taken at an association meeting after members charged that news publications in Canada were slowly being "throttled" by restrictive laws.

"The press in Canada today has less freedom than in other countries of the free world," Mrs. Nora Lindsay, secretary, told the meeting. "The time has come for us to support the press as it is the backbone of our democracy."

The first move the association took in this direction was to pass a resolution urging an amendment to the libel act which would allow news publications to "defend themselves in libel suits without having to reveal their source of information."

The resolution follows a judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada in the libel suit of Gordon Wismer, former attorney-general, against Blair Fraser, well-known Canadian writer for McLean's Magazine.

The court ruled that Mr. Fraser would have to disclose the source of certain statements he made in the magazine in regard to Mr. Wismer.

Members criticized the court's ruling. They pointed out that newspapers in other nations of the British Commonwealth were

SEA CADET ROBBERY TOTAL $320

Rainbow Sea Cadets were heavier losers than was first realized when a break-in of their headquarters at foot of Robert Street was reported Monday. Police learned Tuesday that cash and cheques totaling $320 were stolen.

Prowlers forced a door and ransacked premises.

The theft was the same pattern as the looting of Bay Street Armory, before daylight Tuesday.

In the latter theft, a new estimate of losses totaled $200 in liquor and $200 cash. Eight messes and two storerooms were forcibly entered.

protected by law from disclosing their source of information.

Mrs. Lindsay pointed out that Canadian libel laws were so framed that newspapers were beginning to fear to print certain matters of public interest.

"The individual is being protected at the expense of freedom," she added. "If this continues the press will be muzzled."

Truck Tie-Up Looms As Strike Vote Asked

Application for a government-supervised strike vote has been made by Victoria Teamsters, Chauffeurs Warehousemen and Helpers, local 885, to the minister of labor, union business agent Bob Milliken said today.

Drivers have stated they would strike if a last-ditch attempt at settlement in a six-week-old wage dispute with six Victoria transportation firms fails.

The agent said truckers will "go for the works" if no agreement is reached. They demand a 15-cents-an-hour increase in five classifications, a 40-hour week and two additional paid statutory holidays, making a total of nine.

Operators have already declared they have talked wages for the last time. Their offer of five, eight and 10-cents-an-hour increases with one added paid holiday, made two weeks ago, was turned down by a small margin.

Employers requested that the strike vote, if taken, be government-supervised, and would be conducted so that employees of each firm would ballot separately. This could mean that drivers for some firms could remain working if the majority opposed strike action.

Trucking companies involved form the majority of heavy haulers in the city, and strike would curtail fuel oil delivery, some food hauling to warehouses, much of the local transfer business and mail pick-ups.

Firms are Heaney Cartage, Stocker's Storage, Dowell's Cartage, McIlwaine's Transfer, Central Cartage and Alert Service.

If a strike is carried out, it would not be for at least 48 hours following the vote, as stipulated by the Labor Relations Act.

Q—What was the hull of the Island Titan originally? H.W.G.

A.—It was half of the 200-foot Canadian Pacific cargo Transfer No. 4, built in 1914 by the B.C. Marine, Railway at Esquimalt, now Yarrow's Ltd. Bought by the Island Tug & Barge Co., it was cut in half, and the company informs the Times the forward half was transformed into a floating derrick. It later was sold again and now is at Ocean Falls, where it is planned it will remain permanently. The after 130-foot section was made into a scow.

Q—In British Columbia, how long after a divorce is granted does it become final, and how long before either party may remarry? J.S.

A.—Two months in both cases. There is the right of appeal from the judgment. The two months is the time allowed for appeal. If neither person brings an appeal, the divorce is final and both the man and woman may remarry.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

New! Fountain brush painting sets make excellent gifts for children, and I wouldn't be at all surprised if father didn't decide to get down on the floor with junior and help him paint some of the scenes. I must admit that I was tempted to try it myself! The fountain-paint brush idea is this: a plastic tube with a bit of sponge sticking out one end. A color tablet is inserted above the sponge and all you have to do is fill the plastic tube with water and begin to paint. Color from the water and tablet seep through to the sponge.

This way, there is no mess from mixing paints and spilling water, which a mother dreads each time she sees her youngster getting ready to make like an artist! (Give three cheers, Ma!).

Now for only $2.49 you can purchase the large painting set, which includes 12 fountain brushes, each one containing a different color tablet. There are 20 tablet refills. At this point I think I should mention the fact that these are harmless, pure food colors.

The set also includes five 6½-inch by 10-inch pictures and one 14-inch by 10-inch master-piece picture, ready for painting. The pictures are numbered, and if you follow the enclosed chart, and match the numbers with the right colors, the finished painting will be nothing short of terrific.

If you'd rather buy the smaller-size fountain brush painting set, which sells at $1.25, you will get five fountain brushes and 10 refill tablets. You will also have five scenes to paint.

Have you ever had the urge to express yourself through finger painting? Try it sometime, and you might discover you have a hidden talent for it. Finger painting is largely used for educational purposes and for physical therapy treatments, but anyone can do it, and with some imagination and practice, create scenes or designs good enough to frame.

The sum of $1.75 will buy you finger painting set, which includes six large bottles of finger paint (which can also be applied to woods, metals and plastics), six wooden spatulas, eight sheets of special finger paint which won't absorb water rapidly and a booklet of directions, telling you how to paint with your fingers and showing illustrated examples.

Guest Speaker—Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, spoke to members of Xi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at a recent meeting in the Art Centre. His subject was "Early Settlers on Vancouver Island."

Father Conducts Service In St. John's, Edmonton

Rev. Henry Luetkehoelter conducted a wedding ceremony in St. John's Lutheran Church, Edmonton, Alta., which united in marriage his daughter, Dorothea Amanda Elfriede Luetkehoelter, and Graham Howard Robe, Victoria. Baskets of yellow, mauve and white chrysanthemums were placed in the church for the wedding of the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Luetkehoelter, Edmonton, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Robe, 1750 Oak Shade Lane, Victoria.

Sister of the bride, Miss Margaret Luetkehoelter played traditional organ music, and brother of the bride, Lee Luetkehoelter, gave her in marriage.

A bridal dress of lace and net with scalloped yoke and apron and bustle effect was worn by the attractive bride. She wore a small, pearl-trimmed pancake hat with double circular veil and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and heather.

Eric Easterby was best man and usher was Dave Smirke. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a two-tier wedding cake flanked by white candles in silver holders centred the bride's table. Toast was proposed by Lee Luetkehoelter.

The couple left for a honeymoon motor trip through the United States to Victoria, and their new home at Cordova Bay. For traveling, the bride chose a beige wool dress with avocado green accessories, a beige topcoat and corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Girl Blames Big Nose For Lack of Popularity

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Few people are satisfied with their looks. Some even go so far as to make some disliked feature the scapegoat for all their troubles. I suspect this is true of the girl who writes:

(Q)—"I am 16 years old and in high school. My problem is that I have a very large nose, and this makes me self-conscious most of the time. I want to complete high school but I feel that since I have no dates and since most everybody, especially the boys, makes fun of me, calling me names, etc., that I will probably quit school. I try to make myself have fun when I am out, but nobody wants to go out with a girl with a big nose. Will you please give me some advice?"

(A)—Go to your doctor and ask him about the possibility of having an operation on your nose if he thinks it advisable. He may tell you that your facial growth is not yet complete and that in a relatively short time your face will "grow into" your nose.

During early adolescence all boys and girls have noses too large for the rest of their features. This is because the nose is the first facial feature to reach its mature size. If, however, your doctor is convinced that your face has already completed its growth, he can then advise you about the possibility of an operation.

Until anything can be done, consult a hair stylist about a hairdo that will make your nose seem less conspicuous. Clever make-up also does wonders to make a disproportionately large feature seem smaller.

Then forget about your nose. Your self-consciousness, I am sure, is more responsible for your not having dates and a good time than your nose is. Of course boys do not want to date a "freak," but I doubt that you are one.

As for the name-calling, are you sure this is not because you yourself talk about your nose and call people's attention to it? Nothing would be siller than to give up your education for no better reason than your nose.

Women's Bureau Established in Ottawa Has Feminine Director

OTTAWA (CP)—A women's bureau is a new venture for the federal labor department but the sort of work it will do is as old as women's rights.

The bureau was established last year and Miss Marion Royce, a slim, grey-haired former teacher and social worker, has been named its first director. She also is the bureau staff just now.

Miss Royce is responsible for getting the bureau into operation and deciding what sort of projects it will undertake. She says it's too early to talk much about the bureau's plans but the first step will be a survey of women and employment.

COMPREHENSIVE STUDY

"We should find out what the situation is in Canada regarding wage rates for women, whether they are given equal pay for equal work, and their chances of advancement which can sometimes be an even greater problem for women workers," she said in an interview.

"I am also interested in the economic and social implications of the trend towards married women working outside the home."

Miss Royce, a native of St. Thomas, Ont., has made this sort of survey before. After she left school teaching for social work, she went to Washington in 1942 to the World YWCA office. One of her first jobs was to study the effects of the Second World War on the life of women.

The world YWCA office was shifted back to Geneva following the war and Miss Royce, who previously served as educational secretary for the YWCA in Montreal, went with it.

These plans have fine tone, quick and easy action, beautiful in design, the best material used and guaranteed five years. They are made by one of Eastern Canada's largest and oldest piano manufacturers for over 50 years.

City Is Well Represented Far Away in San Francisco

A Victorian in San Francisco writes of "fellow exiles" encountered in the city of hills: "I have seen the traveling Bud Blaneys, at the end of a travel agents' convention, loitering at a pearl-studded sweater counter for gifts to take home. . . . Louise Hayward, alight with laughter, emerging from the Dublin Players' performance of 'Blithe Spirit'. . . . The easy elegance of Helen Baird Ingraham, drinking champagne cocktails in the Sheraton Palace pub and remembering with a Victorian acquaintance the Jack Todds' most recent visit. . . . Peter Bell looking as much at home on the financial district's Montgomery Street as on his native View Street; and sister Frances Bell Vohs forsaking briefly the intellectual purities of Berkeley's cyclotron for a day in the country and its back-to-nature simplicities of roast pheasant and wild strawberries. . . . The remote El Greco beauty of Mr. Justice and Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran's daughter, Aileen Boyle, looking anything but remotely, at the pumpkins in a village market near her house in Sausalito. . . . Not so recently seen, but readily imagined, Kathleen's Billy Agnew with rifle and retriever on the Sonoma uplands. . . . And Mary Wright, ex-Ballantyne's, ex-Eaton's (and how can anyone so tiny look so regal?) hostessing again for Podesta Baldocchi's Christmas roses.

Double-Ring Ceremony In First United Church

First United Church was decorated with white and bronze chrysanthemums, Saturday evening, for the wedding ceremony, which united Joyce Marjorie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brown, 1227 Colville Road, in marriage with Roy Robertson, HMCS Naden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson, Winnipeg, Man.

Padre D. G. Peebles conducted the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless, ballerina-length gown of lace and pleated nylon net over satin. Her matching jacket of lace was styled with pert, stand-up collar and long, lily pointed sleeves. A pearl-encrusted coronet held her chapel veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Norma Souliere, was matron of honor, wearing a ballerina-length gown of yellow net and lace with matching jacket. She wore a matching yellow headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow and pink chrysanthemums.

Grant Farrell acted as best man and ushers were Jerry Morgan and Jim Noble.

Following the service, a reception was held at the Golden Slipper Ballroom, where the newlyweds cut a three-tier wedding cake flanked by yellow and red rosebuds and ivory candles. Sid Ricketts proposed the toast to the bride.

Mother of the bride wore a turquoise wool dress with white accessories, and corsage of red roses, for receiving guests. Mother of the groom chose a navy silk dress with matching accessories. She also had red roses, en corsage.

Steamed Pudding Makes a Perfect Christmas Dessert

Steamed pudding royale is a labor-saving Christmas dessert your family will enjoy.

Let's keep Christmas dinner free of drudgery. Too many other wonderful things to do—opening presents, exchanging greetings, admiring the tree. This handsome steamed pudding, using a prepared pudding to begin with, is a delicious answer. We think you'll agree.

STEAMED PUDDING ROYALE
One cup sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 1 package vanilla pudding, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1/4 cup finely-chopped glazed fruit, 1/2 cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening thoroughly. Gradually add pudding and cream again. Add egg and beat well. Stir in fruit. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Beat until smooth after each addition. Pour into a well-greased one-quart mold. Cover securely.

Place the mold on a rack in steamer containing about one inch of water. A deep, covered kettle with a rack in bottom may be used in place of a steamer. Cover. Use high heat until water boils, then reduce to low so that steam is steady but light. Replenish water when necessary. Steam pudding for hour and a half. Remove mold from steamer; let stand a few minutes before unmolding pudding. Serve hot with velvety lemon sauce. Makes six to eight servings.

VELVETY LEMON SAUCE
One egg, 1/4 cup extra fine sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup heavy cream.
Beat egg until light. Gradually add sugar, beating until well blended. Beat in lemon juice. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream into lemon-sugar mixture. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with steamed pudding royale.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by The Sun Editor
(Mother of 5)

It's a proud "something-to-brag-about" day when baby first starts to creep. But once the little Gulliver gets a taste of adventure, he's going to want more and more freedom. So, when baby gives you that "don't-fence-me-in" look, it's time to give him more elbow room than a play pen. Start letting him out of the play pen for a little time each day to explore new territories. (Always remembering to keep an eagle eye on the traveler.) By letting baby investigate a new nook and cranny each day, you help him develop confidence . . . and independence.

Further developments. About this time, baby will probably have enough teeth for another new adventure! "Chewing foods!" That's the time to introduce Gerber's Junior Foods. You'll find the change-over extra easy with Gerber's Junior Fruits, Vegetables, Meats, dinners. For they have the tender, evenly-minced bits that encourage chewing, are easy for tots with a few teeth to manage. All have the natural, true-color baby's become used to in Gerber's Strained Foods.

Pocket this for future reference. Here's how one mother increases the life of her baby's crepeers. She buys the over-all type with two big patch pockets. When knees wear through, she detaches the pockets, sews 'em over the patching holes.

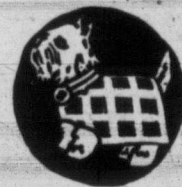

Mother, here's a special offer! Send for three of these attractive handy Refrigerator Can Covers, to snap on your opened cans of Gerber's Baby Foods before they're put in the 'frg. FREE to you by furnishing only 3 labels from Gerber's Strained Foods or Junior Foods. Send to Mrs. Dan Gerber, Box 68, Toronto 18, Canada.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

45 Marshall-Wells Workers Get Notice

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Full-working force of 45 employees at the Marshall-Wells wholesale-retail outlet here received notice Tuesday their employment would end on Dec. 31.

The staff received letters stating the store would wind up operations at the end of 1954. In line with sale of the store to the Army and Navy Stores Ltd., Manager William Thomson refused comment on the move, except to confirm it, and did not say whether any of the employees would be absorbed by other stores on the M-W chain. Some of the workers have been with the company more than 20 years.

LITTLE HOPE

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — A lumber industry official here Tuesday held out little hope there will be any major back-to-work movement in northern camps before Christmas.

Robert Gallagher, secretary of the Northern Interior Lumbermen's Association, indicated that the damp weather had killed all chance of a full-scale employment movement.

He said at least 10 days of severe frost was needed before the mills could reopen.

SYSTEM NEEDED

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., has been asked to find a system of marketing peaches whereby the semi-ripe fruit could be shipped unwrapped to close markets without going through packing-house graders.

The request was made by the Penticton local of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association at the annual meeting here.

A motion to adopt a universal color chart for fruit was also presented to the meeting.

NO LONGER ADEQUATE

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — City council here passed a resolution asking the Department of Transport to aid them in development of the municipal airport at Ellison field.

Council said use of the air-

Rail Subsidy Supported by Labor Leader

REGINA (CP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada supports a proposed federal subsidy to the railways to compensate for loss of revenue caused by the low Crow's Nest Pass rates of western grain.

Gordon Cushing of Ottawa, addressing the annual Saskatchewan Farmers' Union convention here Tuesday, commented on the subsidy suggested last week by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan in a report awarding railway workers fringe benefits.

Mr. Cushing said he realized the question is a contentious one in western Canada. He gathered the proposal is "getting the cold shoulder."

But it should not be treated lightly.

"Instead of the three specific groups the railways, the shippers and railway employees named by Chief Justice Sloan continuing to bear the loss of revenue due to the low Crow's Nest Pass rates, I suggest that a subsidy to be borne by all Canadians should be the answer."

10-Year-Old Robs 5 Hamilton Homes

HAMILTON (CP) — A two-week spree in the east which included a trip to the Grey Cup game ended for a 10-year-old Winnipeg boy Tuesday night when he was arrested in connection with robberies in five Hamilton homes.

Detectives picked up the boy in the downtown hotel where he had been staying alone since his arrival here Nov. 21.

Toronto Police Raid Strip-Tease

TORONTO (BUP) — Two girls faced arraignment today on charges of taking part in an immoral performance that was halted by a 17-man police raid on an East-End Canadian Legion hall.

About 150 men charged as found-ins were allowed to go home early this morning.

Police said the girls were paid $30 each for the strip-tease act. The audience, which included two policemen stationed there to obtain evidence, paid $3 a head admission.

The Crown attorney's office said a charge also was pending against an official of the Legion Branch, No. 473, for permitting the performance.

Industrialist Urges Atomic 'Marshall Plan'

NEW YORK (BUP) — Establishment of an "atomic Marshall plan" to develop nuclear energy throughout the free world was urged today by the president of the company building the world's first atomic-powered submarine.

John Jay Hopkins, chairman of General Dynamics, Ltd., and its airplane-building subsidiary, Canadair Ltd., of Montreal, said reports that Russia is ahead of the west in industrial development of atomic energy "should jolt us from our lethargy."

He said a long-range program to finance, build and use atomic reactors "in the power-short,

Passenger Death Per Billion Miles

LONDON (BUP) — The state-owned British railways today claimed a safety record for 1953 of only one passenger fatality per billion passenger-miles.

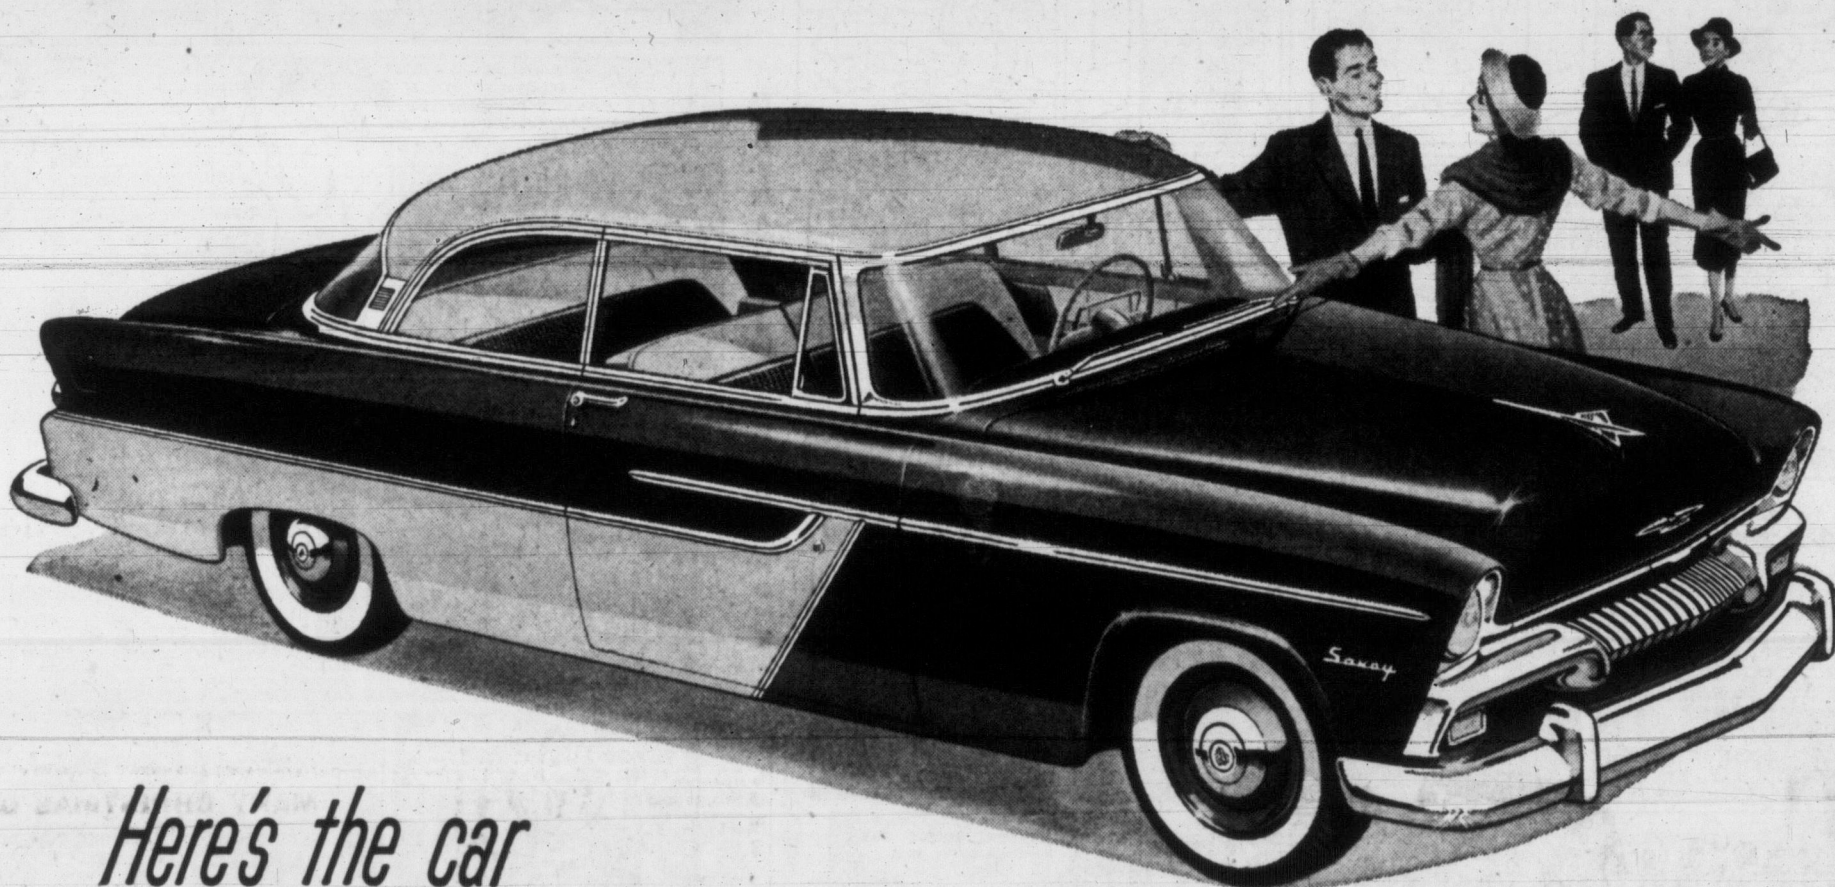

G. R. S. Wilson, the railways' chief inspecting officer, credited installation of additional automatic train controls with helping make the record possible. "At such a rate, a passenger on a British railway could expect to survive a mileage equal to 2,000 round trips to the moon," a spokesman said.

It will not be very long before we again start sowing seeds. Of course that means "indoors," either in the greenhouse, the sun porch, or for growing in the cold frame.

Before we can start, however, we shall need sand and soil for the sowing medium. Around Christmas, and after, it is difficult to find these in a dry enough state for use immediately. For this reason, it is wise to make preparations now.

The first thing is to find a dry place, preferably with an earth floor, where the components of our soil mixture may be stored.

Such a place could be the corner of a shed, garage, or basement, under the front or back porch, or in a simple structure which has a roof to shed rain.

We shall need some well rotted compost or leaf mould, coarse sharp sand, and some good garden soil. The compost is best when taken from the centre of an old pile. The garden soil should be spread on a dry earth floor to lose most of its moisture. Both should be turned through a half-inch screen to remove the coarse parts.

New YWCA Committee Established

Alleged shyness of Victoria's young men has prompted formation of a professional and trade committee in the YWCA to entice hesitant bachelors into social and recreational pastimes.

"Few people realize that the YWCA no longer is restricted to girls and women but now is establishing a program for young people of both sexes," an official statement reads.

The group, called the Young Adult Committee, will endeavor to get the best possible estimate of the community's requirements, and so inform youth, particularly males, of the part they may play in community life.

The program will include instruction in dancing, badminton, tirama, Swedish gymnastics, the Young Women's Club and Victoria "Y" Dance and Social Club.

Young adults from various groups and areas were contacted and asked to serve in the volunteer committee. They include:

Misses Doreen Ray, Peggy Marshall and Barbara Hawkes, students; Alma Little, industrial; Arline McCulloch, nurse and teacher; Diane Wilson, teacher; Franette d'Estrube, social worker; Mrs. Joan Barry, housewife and former YWCA staff member; Bill Allen, advertising; Joan Ashworth, teacher; David Laing, teacher and artist; Michael Penn, doctor; Monty James, civil service; Gordon Goodwin and Jim Doran, manager and assistant manager HBC fashion department; Lieut. W. G. Brown, navy.

Other groups from which representatives may be drawn are police, public health, unions, lawyers, business and others. Working with the committee are YWCA executive director Mae Brown; program committee chairman Mrs. A. G. H. Tisdall, and young adult advisor Mrs. H. Campbell Small.

ON THE SHOW FRONT: Compared to the large metropolitan centres of Canada and south of the border Victoria may be small measured against populations but the way things are progressing the city is soon going to be able to boast the swiftest group of moving picture houses anywhere.

Following the Odeon chain's revelation that it was doing over the Plaza from stem to gudgeon we called in yesterday on Marc Preiswerck, voluble impresario of the Famous Players' Atlas theatre to discover that things were very much a-hum there, too.

Panting slightly while wrestling with a weird assortment of lenses about the size of well-matured firehose nozzles, recently delivered, Mr. Preiswerck announced that ere long his emporium would be featuring the wide screen, the same as the chain's sister houses, the Royal and the Capitol.

Not only will the screen suffice for CinemaScope but for VistaVision as well, or any other old scope they happen to dig up in the meanwhile.

IT SEEMS AS THOUGH he awoke last Friday morning very sad about the general presentation of Atlas films. And as he isn't the type of hombre to let the grass sprout beneath his brogues he did something about it. He called in projectionist Joe Graham and between them they started experimenting. First they juggled the projectors, a little forward, a little back. But it made small difference to the image on the screen. Then they started switching lenses. Eventually they hit the combination. They changed from the 5 1/2 Ross lens to the new high-speed Hilux lens which assures the maximum focus. Then a slight "step" was slipped under the right rear leg of the projector and the job was complete.

Looking "into" the Atlas' metallic, seamless screen, seeing the background roll into the distance, we could hardly wait for the theatre's announcement of its first wide-screen showing.

With the masks off and the vista stretching across the theatre, there is little doubt that the most exacting filmgoer will be willing to agree that Victoria theatre patrons are being kept up with the times in the world of cinematography.

MR. PREISWERCK is the enthusiastic type. Still juggling the lens that would cost individually no more than Grace Kelly's yearly stipend he pushed us unceremoniously up to the projection booth peephole. The film for the test run was Danny Kaye's "Hans Christian Andersen." It was the ballet scene with French dancer Jeanmarie. It was breathtaking. "What do you think of that?" he asked urgently. "How's that for depth?"

"Like 3-D without glasses," we agreed, and it was. "How did you do it?" "Well," he panted, "as you know, we've had the new screen in for some time now. Of course we had to mask it off until we start projecting the king-sized jobs."

"We know that," we interrupted. "But how did you get such depth?" It was then Mr. Preiswerck put down the lens and told us how.

Recreation Now Duty Says Program Chief

Recreation is no longer a privilege, it is a duty.

Speaking to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, Laurie Wallace, director of the community programs branch of the Department of Education, described the necessity and the demands of recreation in the modern community.

People are beginning to realize, he said, that recreation and leisure form a definite human need.

"In the past, men did mere lip-service to recreation," he said, "but happily, that attitude has changed."

"Today, more and more, people are realizing the worth of enjoying their leisure time at some profitable recreation."

Mr. Wallace described the change in working conditions during the past century.

"The work week has dropped from an average of 84 hours in 1890 to 40 hours in present times."

"This has left man with a lot of time for recreation. But as yet, people have not learned to fully utilize their leisure time."

That is where, in B.C., the community programs branch comes into force.

Mr. Wallace outlined the activities of the branch, explaining their methods.

The branch employs nine regional consultants, he said, gives help to blind persons, provides films, supplies drama equipment and finances local community recreation programs.

Will New Montreal Regime End Threats to Filion?

By TONY DICKASON

Such vice as exists in Montreal will have to operate undercover following the smashing victory of Jean Drapeau in mayoralty elections, but even the young lawyer's pledge to fight crime may not be as effective as predicted.

This was indicated in Victoria during the recent visit of Gerard Filion, managing editor of Le Devoir which gave Drapeau most support.

Said he: "Drapeau is a close personal friend of mine, but he is only human like all of us. Who can tell what will happen in the future?"

Drapeau's surprise victory was the climax of a five-year campaign by the 30,000 circulation daily to clean up corruption.

During that time Filion received repeated threats of violence to himself and his family if the probe were not called off. As a result of the probe, Drapeau was elected, and hearings ended with the dismissal and fines for 20 members and former members of the city police force, including director Albert Langlois.

Other groups from which representatives may be drawn are police, public health, unions, lawyers, business and others.

Working with the committee are YWCA executive director

Mae Brown; program committee chairman Mrs. A. G. H.

Tisdall, and young adult advisor Mrs. H. Campbell Small.

Joint Harbor Defense Unit Plan To Include Industry, Military

Effect of an atomic water-blast on Victoria Harbor could be "staggering," harbormaster Capt. Ron G. Newell said today. He recently returned from a special civil defense course for port authorities conducted by the federal government at Arnprior, Ont., civil defense college. It is as a result of the course that steps will be taken shortly to organize waterfront industry and business into an independent harbor defense unit. Some 35 Victoria industries, shipping companies and businesses will be asked to take part in a workable plan to maintain facilities in the inner, outer and upper harbors in the event of a disaster. Primary objective will be protection of lives and property, but maintenance of services and restoration to normality would also be important.

MANY-SIDED FORCE
An announcement issued by civil defense authorities at Arnprior following the course said: "A workable plan needs the co-operation of governmental harbor authorities, shipping companies, dockside industries, the armed forces and commercial interests on the waterfronts. In an emergency, civil defense workers in a port city would have enough on their hands controlling damage and saving life in the city proper without having to concentrate on the port. On the other hand, much of the aid that will be needed by a bombed city must flow through the port, and harbor defense must see to it that the waterfront is able to handle such traffic with a minimum of delay." There is a "definite need" for civil defense in Victoria harbor area, Capt. Newell said. "I went back east to the lectures with an open mind, but I was convinced after hearing the lectures." He said the instructors, who included members of the armed forces, scientists and civilian experts, were "excellent."

FULL SUPPORT ASKED
Capt. Newell asks that holders of waterfront commercial and industrial property support the projected plan "wholeheartedly" when approached to form a harbor defense group. "We'll all be involved if a bomb is dropped," the harbormaster said.

Harbor civil defense planning was given top priority in the Arnprior course because of the key role played by such harbor cities in transportation and communications, and the fact that large stocks of highly inflammable goods and other basic hazards are to be found on waterfronts.

One authority said there was hardly a harbor in Canada that could not be completely immobilized by the sinking of one ship at a strategic point.

Port officials from Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Toronto, Montreal, Saint John, N.B., Halifax and St. John's, Nfld., drew up a basic civil defense plan that can be adapted to the needs of any port in Canada if an emergency should arise from war or natural causes. Basic plan utilized was that already formed by Vancouver, now considered the best-prepared port.

WISH I HAD SWALLOWED MY WORDS DEPT.

"In the end, the people of Windsor shall speak. And I will not listen to them."

Power Board Appointment Imminent?

By TOM GOULD

The three-man B.C. Power Commission is scheduled to arrive back in Victoria Friday after a hush-hush trip to the east.

Repeated queries to the commission offices have been answered with a statement that the "commissioners are out of town, but we don't know where."

One commission spokesman confirmed reports the commissioners have been to Toronto, and there are reports they are seeking a new general manager to handle the B.C.P.C.'s administration.

Appointment of a general manager was recommended by Mr. Justice J. V. Cline in his Royal Commission report on the Whatshan disaster.

FOR YEAR TO DATE

Sunshine Average Off 235 Hours

Sunshine in Victoria for the 11-month period to November 30 was down 235.7 hours from the yearly average for this time, weatherman Bill Mackie reported today.

There were 1,899.2 hours of sunshine, compared to the normal 2,134.9.

During this period rainfall totaled 25.86 inches, 3.79 inches above normal.

In November mean temperature was 48.8 degrees, 3.6 above average. It rained on 17 days

U.S. Firm Retained to Fill Powell River Drainage Basin

The world's most successful rainmaking firm has installed a network of generators on Vancouver Island aimed at increasing rainfall on the moisture-soaked Lower Mainland.

Powell River Co. has contracted the firm's services for a one-year period starting October of this year, after a "trial run" for a six-month period between October, 1953, and April, 1954. Powell River wants more rainfall to increase water storage for its hydro-electric plants.

The rainmaking firm, Water Resources Development Corp., of Denver, Colorado, and Spokane, Wash., is headed by Dr. Irving Krick, who has built his multi-million dollar company on his reputation as "the weather wizard of the world."

Six rain machines have been installed on Vancouver Island—at Duncan, Ladysmith, Campbell River, Comox, Wellington, and Lantzville. Two others are located at Powell River and Bowen Island.

The intricate machines bombard the atmosphere with countless millions of particles of silver iodide, when in operation.

The disclosure of the rainmaking activities came at a time when Vancouver city officials were looking for a new record for rainfall for the month of November.

Powell River Co. officials today confirmed the existence of the machines. Company spokesmen said recent mill expansion is taxing the hydro-electric potential of the firm's power generators at Lois River, and on the Powell River.

The firm hired the professional rainmakers in efforts to increase rainfall, to build up water storage reservoirs in Powell Lake and Gordon Pasha Lake.

BCE CONTRACT
The B.C. Electric Company also revealed it has entered the rainmaking business. The BCE hired the same firm on an experimental basis two years ago but dropped its contract after the Bridge River power station went into operation.

One of Dr. Krick's associates, meteorologist Lynn Willoughby of Spokane, told the Times the rain machines are located and operated to direct additional rainfall in the Powell River drainage area.

The "target" area is a 75 mile by 50 mile block centering on Powell River. However, Mr. Willoughby said results of the machines carry as much as 150 miles.

Mr. Willoughby said wind speeds and direction, temperatures, moisture content of the air, and other factors are compiled in the firm's U.S. offices.

When all factors are known, and conditions suitable, the rain machines are turned on. "If the rainfall will affect any area other than the target area we won't operate," he said.

Powell River officials said the initial six-month test was "inconclusive," but that Dr. Krick sold them on a further one-year test to prove he could obtain results.

The rain machines pour a stream of minute silver iodide particles at the rate of "a million billion per minute" into the air over Vancouver Island.

FORM NUCLEUS
The particles attract moisture in the air, and form the nucleus of a rain drop. When the drops become large enough, they discharge and fall as rain.

Mr. Willoughby said there is "no doubt" the silver iodide method can get results.

He said the process does not take immediate effect, but the 20-mile flight across the Georgia Strait allows time for the droplets to form.

The generators burn coke with the silver iodide, and the warm updraft created by the fire carries the particles into the upper air currents.

The generators are contained in a metal box, 30 by 14 by 30 inches. Inside, a hopper filled with silver iodide impregnated coke drops the mixture into a burner.

An electric blower fans the particles into the air.

The unit at Wellington, half a mile past Wellington station at Long Lake Auto Court, is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Fouracre.

It sits right at their back door. Mrs. Fouracre receives calls from Spokane "at all hours of the day or night." After receiving a call, Mrs. Fouracre lights the contraption with an oil-soaked piece of asbestos, and trips the switch to start the burner.

RAINFALL DATA
The department of transport has no connection with the rainmaking activities, but meteorologists have been called upon to contribute rainfall data from scattered points throughout the lower mainland.

The information is collected from stations as far north as Bella Coola, east to Estevan Point, and south to Haney and Chilliwack.

Dr. Krick's firm has been under investigation by D.O.T. inspectors in Saskatoon, where Water Resources Development Corp. signed up hundreds of wheat farmers in mid-summer for a rainmaking contract.

The federal department has not issued a report on its findings, which are to determine whether more or less rain fell within the target areas compared with precipitation outside them.

Vancouver weather officials said they don't know whether the machines are effective. Vancouver has experienced flooding conditions as a result of heavy rain.

Churchill Apologizes to Commons For Words on Captured Nazi Arms

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill expressed to the House of Commons today his "regrets" for having stated last week that he considered rearming captured German troops in 1945.

He said he had considered such action might be necessary to stop the Russians, if the Soviets advanced too far into western Europe.

Churchill explained today that he was under the impression when he made the disclosure to a small gathering at Woodford, that he already had published that fact in his account of the Second World War.

"When I spoke at Woodford," he said, "I was under the rooted impression that not only had I sent this telegram to Field Marshal Montgomery, but that I had published it a year ago in the sixth volume of my account of the Second World War."

"In fact, the telegram was not published in the book," the prime minister said.

He said he regretted not having followed the rule to "always check your quotations."

"I express my regrets to the House for what I said last week," Churchill said with rare humility.

The row in Commons over the Churchill statement returned the prime minister to the rough and tumble of political life after Tuesday's emotional celebration in which friend and foe alike paid tribute to his greatness.

Former Socialist Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell raised the question of the Woodford speech.

He described it as "a most unfortunate, inopportune prelude to a four-power conference (with Russia)."

The Laborite spokesman said there had been "excitement, confusion and bewilderment" in the public mind at Churchill's disclosure.

He said if Conservatives backing Churchill approved the use of "indoctrinated and unscrupulous Nazis in order to fight their former ally" then something was "wrong with their judgment or intelligence."

WINNIE'S PORTRAIT 'STUDY IN LUMBAGO?'

LONDON (Reuters)—Artist Graham Sutherland's conception of Prime Minister Churchill on canvas has raised a storm of controversy among the press and public, with comments ranging from "disgusting" and "throw the artist in the river" to "wonderful."

Conservative member Robert Cary said "it's all right if you like a study in lumbago." (See also page 5.)

SELL HOMOGENIZED ONLY

Abolish Standard Milk Board Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Elimination of standard milk and sale of homogenized only, abolition of pint sizes and reduction of the varieties of cream available were among economies suggested to the Royal Commission probing B.C.'s milk industry.

George Fawcett, Vancouver manager of Palm Dairies Ltd., said Tuesday these measures would reduce distributing costs and keep the retail price of milk stable for consumers.

He admitted that another milk price increase above the present 22 cents a quart would cut consumer demand. Consumers did not realize what a bargain in food value they were getting, he said.

During cross-examination, Mr. Fawcett argued that distributors had in many cases absorbed rising costs without passing them on to consumers.

Neither the milk producer nor the unionized employee had to suffer on account of increased costs, he said.

Another recommendation for economy in distribution was the five-day delivery, he said.

There was no hope of achieving these distribution economies unless the distributors could agree among themselves to initiate these suggestions, he said.

If any dairy inaugurated any economy by itself, say the elimination of pint sizes, it would lose customers to competitors. He said he would favor only as a last resort an overall authority which would have powers to rule that certain economies must be put into effect.

$50,000 Loot Grabbed in Morning Raids

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Two bank hold-ups netted thugs $50,000 here today when four heavily armed men looted the West Point Grey branch of the Bank of Montreal and two hours later a lone man robbed the downtown branch of the same bank.

The first raid occurred about 9 a.m. on the West Point Grey branch and the thugs escaped with $48,000 after battering down the door of the bank.

Two hours later, a lone man shoved a note through a wicket to a teller in the Pender and Granville Street main branch of the bank and got away with $2,000.

Police picked up four suspects in connection with the West Point Grey robbery, and the men were taken to head-quarters for questioning.

In the first raid three thugs, armed with two shotguns and two Luger pistols, barged into the bank before the branch opened for business and forced the staff to lie on the floor.

They were real pros," Vye said. "I saw a short guy with a mask step out of the car and yell 'This is a hold-up.' I ran back inside my shop and phoned the police."

The men were masked with stockings. They took two cash boxes each containing $24,000 after telling a clerk to "hand over the money or you won't see Christmas."

Biggest Hold-Up in Recent Years

The robbery was the biggest hold-up in recent Vancouver history.

Police fingerprint experts converged on the scene in a matter of minutes and road-blocks were thrown up throughout the West Point Grey district.

In the other four greater Vancouver bank robberies of the past month loot totaling about $13,000 was obtained. Today's hold-up was the first to occur before the opening of a bank.

Relieving manager Jack R. Purser and Mrs. Ida Randle, liability clerk, were discussing bank business when they heard a crash as the gunmen forced in the door.

"They all seemed to burst in all at once," Purser said. "Then a small man who was well-spoken said 'Lie down.' A second man said, 'Everyone has to make a living.'"

Plucky Woman Fights Off Thug
VANCOUVER (BUP)—A plucky South Vancouver housewife was the latest citizen to join the growing fight against the city's gangsterism.

Mrs. Krulitski told police the six-foot prowler came to her back door demanding money. She said the man grabbed her and pushed her inside the house.

Korea Peace Talks Barred to Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN refused today by an overwhelming vote to invite Red China and Communist North Korea here for Korean peace discussions.

The decision was taken by the General Assembly's 60-nation political committee after a Soviet bloc delegate had hinted that such an invitation might help clear up the case of the 13 Americans held by the Peiping regime as alleged spies.

SENATE DEFEATS MOVE TO CLEAR MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate refused on a roll call vote today to clear Senator Joseph McCarthy of censure charges.

The 66-to-21 vote rejected a proposal by Senator Everett Dirksen (Rep.-Ill.) to drop a count charging McCarthy with contemptuous treatment of an elections subcommittee, and substitute language saying that McCarthy had broken no Senate rule or tradition.

The outcome of this first test indicated strongly that the Senate later will officially rebuke the Wisconsin Republican. McCarthy has predicted that he will be censured.

Planes, Ships
In Wide Search

LONDON (UP)—French planes and ships searched today for five Breton fishing boats, overdue with 60 men aboard.

The battering storms which have claimed 51 lives at sea and in Britain were abating, and it was hoped the French fishermen had found safe shelter.

Fears had been felt for their safety when they were unreported and had made no radio contact since sailing into the gale last Friday.

Seamen believed they had found shelter in some small port along the Irish, British or French coast.

The search by plane and ship was described as "precautionary."

The Royal Navy searched today for 20 missing men from the freighter Tressilian, but the Admiralty said there was little hope they would be found. Four bodies were recovered and 16 men were rescued.

Something for a Rainy Day

Rain-making machine at Up-Island Wellington is tended by Mrs. Edith Fouracre, part-time employee of Water Research Development Corp. of Spokane since September, 1953. Firm has contract to induce rainfall in the Powell River area. Six of its machines are known to be established on Vancouver Island.

Network of Island Generators
Making Rain for B.C. Mainland

The world's most successful rainmaking firm has installed a network of generators on Vancouver Island aimed at increasing rainfall on the moisture-soaked Lower Mainland to boost hydro power storage.

Powell River Co. has contracted the firm's services for a one-year period starting October of this year, after a "trial run" for a six-month period between October, 1953, and April, 1954. Powell River wants more rainfall to increase water storage for its hydro-electric plants.

M. J. Foley, executive vice-president of Powell River Co., said his firm has been assured by Dr. Krick, that his operations are effective in a limited area, and could not possibly affect the weather pattern of the lower mainland or Vancouver Island.

The rainmaking firm, Water Resources Development Corp. of Denver, Colorado, and Spokane, Wash., is headed by Dr. Irving Krick, who has built his multi-million dollar company on his reputation as "the weather wizard of the world."

Six rain machines have been installed on Vancouver Island—at Duncan, Ladysmith, Campbell River, Comox, Wellington and Lantzville. Two others are located at Powell River and Bowen Island.

The intricate machines bombard the atmosphere with countless millions of particles of silver iodide, when in operation.

The disclosure of the rainmaking activities came at a time when Vancouver city chalked up a new record for rainfall for the month of November.

Powell River Co. officials today confirmed the existence of the machines. Company spokesmen said recent mill expansion is taxing the hydro-electric potential of the firm's power generators at Lois River, and on the Powell River.

The firm hired the professional rainmakers in efforts to increase rainfall, to build up (Continued on Page 28) for a total precipitation of 5.97 inches, 1.93 inches over normal. There were 68.3 hours of sunshine during the month, 10 hours under average.

Minimum temperature on the grass for the month was 29.6 degrees on the 28th. Maximum temperature was 64 degrees November 1 and lowest 35.7 degrees November 29.

Three "warm day" records were set for the month. The 64 degrees on the 1st; 56.1 on the 19th, and 59.2 November 22.

In November mean temperature was 48.8 degrees, 3.6 above average. It rained on 17 days

Four Suspects Nabbed
In $48,000 Robbery

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Mayor Hume called an emergency meeting of the police commission this afternoon to discuss today's two bank hold-ups and the mounting crime wave.

The first raid occurred about 9 a.m. on the West Point Grey branch and the thugs escaped with $48,000 after battering down the door of the bank.

Two hours later, a lone man shoved a note through a wicket to a teller in the Pender and Granville Street main branch of the bank and got away with $2,000.

Police picked up four suspects in connection with the West Point Grey robbery, and the men were taken to headquarters for questioning.

In that raid three thugs, armed with two shotguns and two Luger pistols, barged into the bank before the branch opened for business and forced the staff to lie on the floor.

Descriptions were obtained of three of the men. One was said to be a Negro about six feet two, wearing a woman's green coat with a hood. A second man was described as of average height with a grey hat, and the third about five foot six with a black hat.

The alarm on the hold-up was turned in by print shop owner Earl Vye, who was in his office across the street and saw the Buick sedan driven by a fourth man. The car, stolen earlier, was found abandoned in the university area. It carried two different license plates. A Cadillac also stolen earlier was recovered, and it was believed the bandits may have used the vehicle as a second get-away car.

In the other four greater Vancouver bank robberies of the past month loot totaling about $13,000 was obtained. Today's hold-up was the first to occur before the opening of a bank.

Relieving manager Jack R. Purser, and Mrs. Ida Randle, liability clerk, were discussing bank business when they heard a crash as the gunmen forced in the door.

"They all seemed to burst in all at once," Purser said. "Then a small man who was well-spoken said 'Lie down.' A second man said, 'Everyone has to make a living.'"

As two girls fell to the floor, two separate alarms were set off in the neighborhood.

"This was the first time this bank had ever been robbed," Purser said. "They knew the money was here and waited until we had it."

Purser said the reason such a large amount of money was on hand is that it was the end of the month.

It was not known whether the man who staged the second raid on the main branch was armed.

Accountant H. B. Francis said the man entered the bank about 11 a.m. and shouted through a wicket to a teller, Miss Terry Cran. The teller in the next booth, Miss Estelle Paupst, saw the money being handed over and pressed the alarm.

The man escaped into the downtown crowds on Granville Street.
